Crack Baltimore & Ohio Train Held Up by Masked Men

Great Sum in Currency Is Taken From Mail Coach

By Associated Press.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 8.—County officials were informed that the robbers who held up the Baltimore and Ohio train near Central, W. Va., secured from the mail car about 100 registered packages and 90 packages of unsigned bank notes being sent from Washington to banks in the Middle West. The value of the currency wa aestimated at $500,000.

RIFLE MAIL CAR.

By Associated Press.

WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 8.—Two masked men early today held up and robbed a altimore and Ohio eExpress train from New York to St. Louis, two miles west of Central, W. Va. Their booty was taken from mail cars, according to reports received here and was believed to be large.

Two hours elapsed from the time of the robbery, about 2 o'clock, until the news could be sent to division headquarters of Parkersburg. Posses aggregating more than a hundred men were out before daybreak. The train roobed is one of the best on the Baltimore and Ohio system. It left New York yesterday morning. Usually it carried large numbers of through pasengers and valuable registered mail and express.

The amount of booty obtained is unknown. One unverified report said that in the express car which the robbers did not take with them down the track was $2,000,000 in gold.

Carmen's Union Waiting for Word

No word has yet been received by members of the Carmen's Union from W. D. Mahon, president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes of America, who has been asked to come to Oakland and take personal charge of the situation now existing between the union men and the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways. There are no new developments since yesterday, both sides awaiting the result of the strike vote to be taken at the general meeting which has been called for 2:30 o'clock next Sunday morning. This meeting is to be held in the Municipal Auditorium.

George K. Weeks, president of the traction corporation, last evening told Commissioner of Public Health and Safety F. F. Jackson that, in his opinion, there would be no strike.

"I do not know what Mr. Weeks bases his statement on," B. F. Bowbeer, eighth international vice-president of the union and a member of the local grievance committee, said today. "We will not know whether there will be a strike or not until after Sunday morning's meeting."

Dr. Mariotte Sued by Wife for Divorce

Myrtle A. Mariotte thinks that it is extreme cruelty on the part of a husband to change the locks on his office doors, thereby barring his wife from entering at will and all hours. She makes this one of her cruelty allegations in a complaint for divorce filed in the Superior Court today against Dr. Paul A. Mariotte, a dentist, of 582 Excelsior avenue.

Mrs. Mariotte says that her husband some time ago gave her a key to his office in the Thompson building. When she recently sought to use it, she complains, she found that the lock had been changed and her key was useless. As another instance of alleged cruelty she cites that she once found the watch of the office nurse in her husband's pocket. She further alleges that her husband had a habit of staying out late at night.

Mrs. Mariotte says her husband has an income of $800 a month, and she asks that she be given $250 of this as alimony. They were married in Santa Rosa in 1907, seperated in Oakland in August of this year and have no children.

Burglar Rogers Gets Five Years' Sentence

Henry Rogers, alias John T. Davies, the burglar, who had the police departments of four cities seeking him while he burglarized more than forty fashionable homes in Oakland, Berkeley, Piedmont and Alameda, was sentenced to five years' imprisonment in San Quentin by Judge Moncur this morning.

Rogers asked that sentence here be suspended, as a twelve-year suspended sentence awaited him in Walla Walla, Wash., where he was convicted on a burglary charge several years ago. He pleaded that he would be made to serve two terms for one offense if the local courts sent him to prison, as he would undoubtedly be returned to Walla Walla after his San Quentin term expires. Judge Moncur denied his plea.

John Lutz, who has been in trouble on many other occasions for the theft of brass water faucets, was sentenced to one year's imprisonment in Folsom. Lutz is suffering from mental trouble caused through being kicked in the head by a horse several years ago and has never stolen any articles but brass faucets.

Militia Arrives At Mining Camp

Strategic Point Near the Town Occupied

By Associated Press.

CLIFTON, Ariz., Oct. 8.—One hundred militiamen from Phoenix and Tucson arrived about noon and encamped at a strategic point a mile from the town, commanding the railway and road to the mining camps.

Dynamite was found today in a lot adjoining the home of E. A. G. Dulmage, business manager of the Arizona Gazette, which is the main exponent in Arizona for the operators' side of the Clifton mine strike.

SIDE WITH STRIKERS.

By Associated Press.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 8.—Preparations were being made today to send the entire Arizona National Guard to the scene of the strike in the Clifton-Morenci copper mine district. This action is said to have been caused by a report that the militia company at Morenci had taken sides with the strikers and walked out of the camp.

Only three men were reported to be guarding the armory at Morenci. Guy Miller, a member of the executive board of the Western Federation of Miners, was expected in Phoenix today to confer with Governor George W. P. Hunt.

With Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation, he probably will represent the miners at any conferences here looking to the settlement of the strike which began September 11 and affects the employes of the Shannon, the Arizona and Detroit copper companies, who are demanding a new wage scale, an eight-hour day and recognition of the union.

DENIES PLAN TO RETAIN KAUFMAN

The rumor current at the City Hall for several days that Mayor Davie has planned to dispense with the services of his secretary, Preston Higgins, to gain money enough to employ George Kaufman, his advisor, as secretary-manager, was denied at the mayor's office today.

Kaufman laughed when told of the rumor.

"If you combined the salaries of the commissioners the salary would not interest me," said Kaufman.

The gossip about the corridors of the City Hall had it that the salaries of Higgins, $225 a month, that of the recently deposed revenue expert, C. Stuart MacMullen, $225 a month, and that of Miss P. R. Cunningham, the stenographer in the office who was laid off a month ago, $90 a month, were to be combined to tempt Kaufman into city employ. This would give him $540 a month. The mayor receives only $350 a month.

But Kaufman has been acting in the capacity, without pay, of city manager of Oakland. He has talked of leaving the city to go to his home in New York, as he is here only as a guest at the Hotel Oakland. If a large enough salary could be provided it has been thought that he might be induced to remain.

Kaufman was the man who made the Oakland municipal budget for the current fiscal year. He has visited various departments, and the series of letters which Mayor Davie has been filing day by day with the City Council are generally credited to Kaufman. It is alleged that he has been responsible for remedying many of the mistakes made in the early history of the new administration.

The enthusiasm over Kaufman's activities is not apparent in all city departments, however. Orders have been issued in at least two of the large city departments presided over by city commissioners that if Kaufman comes to investigate, he shall be asked for his credentials before any assistance shall be given him.

"The idea that Mr. Kaufman would work for the city is imbecile," said Mayor Davie. "Why, any salary we could pay him would not pay his hotel bills here. And he has a home on the Hudson and other large expenses. He travels in a private car.

"Mr. Kaufman is here assisting and advising me as my friend. He is a financial and business expert. The city is gaining through his aid, which is entirely disinterested."

Haynes on Trial for Murder in Orchard

The trial of Walter P. Haynes on the charge of having murdered aged Manuel Bettencourt, whose dead body was hanged to a tree in the Julliard orchard, near Hayward, on July 13, was begun before a jury in Judge J. O. Moncur's court this morning. The first witness for the prosecution was R. H. White, a deputy county surveyor, who explained the details of a map depicting the scene of the murder.

Deputy District Attorney A. A. Rogers is prosecuting Haynes, who is being defended by Lin S. Church and J. W. Stetson.

HIST! HIST! HERE'S U. C. MYSTERY

Softly Treads College Man Into Prof.'s Boudoir

Regularly Breathes His Midnight Message in De Camp's Ear

BERKELEY, Oct. 8.—Softly along the trail of the light of a pocket flash-lamp, John Dement, senior in the University of California, has crept at midnight into the boudoir of Professor J. E. de Camp of the department of psychology. Softly still, not to awaken the dormant pedagogue, he has whispered into the sleeper's ear. Finally, and still softly, he has crept from the room and out into the night and back to his residence at the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity house.

It is a half-mile walk, but Dement had taken it night after night without thought of objection. He has not resented the hour set for the tramp. He has not suffered from nervousness on his strange mission. He has not even abandoned his errand, though on one evening it brought him near to arrest at the hands of a suspicious neighbor.

All in the name of science have been Dement's nocturnal adventures. Professor de Camp is studying that most illusive of psychological phenomena, sleep. His task is to remember in the morning and note down just what the student said to him while he slumbered. Dement makes a memorandum, too, and in conference the next day teacher and pupil compare notes.

Professor de Camp resides at 2407 Bowditch street. Dement's residence is on the other side of the campus, on Hearst avenue. At a quarter before midnight Dement leaves the fraternity house. Across the dark campus he makes his way. The door of the professor's residence is left unlocked on purpose to give him access. He has practised the art of walking noiselessly on tiptoe. Up the stairs he glides and to the professor's room. He opens the door cautiously. He approaches the bedside and leans over to the ear of the unconscious scientist. What the words are he whispers neither he nor Professor de Camp tells. They are not sensible words, he admits; they do not form a connected sentence. That would not do for the purposes of the test. The words are mostly monosyllables, syllables.

TWICE HE FAILED.

Dement does not pause to measure the effect of his address. Once it is discharged against the professor's aural drum, he turns upon tiptoe. Still with zealous stealth he quits the room, descends the stairs and leaves the house, pausing then only to breathe a sigh of relief that the pedagogue did not stir in his slumbers and that his duty has again been well performed.

On two occasions when a chair was in the way or the door squeaked on its hinges the experiment went for naught. The professor roused himself upon his elbow to glare upon the intruder until the explanation of the latter's presence dawned upon his reviving conscientiousness, and then the latter, with apologies for his lack of caution, withdrew to repeat the test the following night.

All would have continued well and valuable contribution would have been made, in all probability, to the world's knowledge but for the fact that on two successive nights, insomnia possessed the soul of a neighbor of De Camp. At the first midnight he beheld from his sleeping-room window the flashing lamp of the student and the shadowy figure that followed it into De Camp's residence. When the apparition appeared the second night, he took alarm. Hastily dressing, he confronted the diligent senior when the latter made his way out of the house.

"Hands up!" he said, and Dement's obeyance of the command was almost simultaneous with its utterance.

"What are you doing in that house?" was the succeeding sentence of the guardian neighbor.

"I am conducting an experiment," was the reply.

The neighbor's mouth opened to an exclamation of either surprise or doubt, but Dement hastened on to give some explanation, if not the whole explanation, of his intrusion. The statement did not entirely satisfy, and until Professor de Camp had been awakened to prove an alibi, the neighbor's grip on Dement's arm was not relaxed.

It has been planned by Professor de Camp and his student assistant to continue the test for some time, until sufficient data are at hand to establish the exact relationship between the waking and the sleeping mind, between the normal and sub-conscious conditions of the professorial conscientiousness. Then the psychologist is to prepare a thesis embodying the necessary deductions from the tests.

GREECE TO REMAIN NEUTRAL

INVASION OF SERBIA IS PRESSED

Von Mackensen's Armies Drive Toward Constantinople R. R.

Allies and Bulgars Mass Troops Near Point on Line

BULLETIN.

By Associated Press.

ATHENS, via London, Oct. 8, 5:52 p. m.—The Official News Agency announced today that there was foundation for rumors circulated in some quarters that the new Greek cabinet intended to protest against the landing of allied troops on Greek soil.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 8, 12:30 p. m.—A message to the Times states that the Greek government has decided to issue a declaration of its attitude of "benevolent neutrality" toward the entente powers.

BULGARIA NEXT TO STRIKE AT SERBIA

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 8, 12:17 p. m.—The new Teutonic invasion of Serbia is now in full swing. In command of Field Marshal von Mackensen, the German and Austrian forces are seeking to push their way southward, with the Drina, Danube and Save rivers at their backs, in an attempt to seize the trunk railway stretching from Belgrade to both Saloniki and Constantinople. The next move lies with Bulgaria. Whether she will attack Serbia from the rear while the central powers are hammering at the northern and northwestern gates, or maintain for the moment a watchful attitude is a matter of surmise, but the situation is such that her entry into the war seems to be a matter only of hours.

Russian warships already are reported to be hurling shells at the Bulgarian port of Varna, on the Black sea. French and British troops are being rushed northward from Saloniki by express trains. Meanwhile, at the point where the railroad approaches closest to Bulgarian territory, both an allied and a Bulgarian army are massing.

SERB CAPITAL VACATES.

It is reported from Italian sources that as a precaution the Serbian government is transferring all records and archives from Nish to Istip, in southern Serbia, about 50 miles from the Greek frontier.

Virtually made-over in guns and equipment and stiffened by British and French effectives, it is predicted here that the Serbians will offer stubborn resistance to the Austro-German advance. They will be assisted by the flood conditions in the Morava Valley, down which Field Marshal von Mackenzen hopes to force his way.

The official German communication now carries the sub-caption "Balkan theater of war" indicating that these operations are to be chronicled daily. Estimates of the strength of the Austro-German forces along the Serbian frontier range from 400,000 to 600,000 men. There may have been withdrawals by the Austrians and Germans from some parts of the eastern front but the renewed effort of Field Marshal von Hindenburg to capture Dvinsk does not indicate any weakening of the troops under his command.

Among the theories advanced, now that Germany has definitely undertaken a fresh campaign in the Balkans, is the supposition that activity, on the southern end of the eastern front will gradually slacken, and that the Teutons will concentrate their energies on Riga and Dvinsk.

AEROPLANES THROW AIR BOMBS ON NISH

NISH, Oct. 7, via London, Oct. 8.—An aeroplane coming from Bulgaria this afternoon dropped numerous bombs on Nish, killing five persons and wounding two others. It then returned safely to Bulgaria.

Although there has been no formal declaration of war, the cordial reception by Bulgarian officers at Sofia of the German aviators who dropped bombs on Belgrade and Nish yesterday is regarded here as tantamount to the commencement of hostilities against Serbia by Bulgaria.

Winners Rally in Next Inning With Two Runs

NATIONAL LEAGUE PARK, Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—The Philadelphia Nationals won the opening game of the world's series here this afternoon, defeating the Boston Americans by a score of 3 runs to 1. Despite the fact that the Red Sox outhit the Phillies, errors and a lack of playing judgment at critical moments gave the contest to the National League pennant winners.

Neither Alexander nor Shore pitched sensational ball, but excellent defensive work at their backs kept the score down. Paskert's great running catch of Gardner's long drive to center field in the eighth inning shut off a Red Sox rally, and was the fielding feature of the day.

The official attendance was 19,343. Total receipts, $51,066. National commission's share, $5,106.60; players' share, $27,575.64; each club's share, $9,191.88.

By Associated Press.

NATIONAL LEAGUE PARK, PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—After hours of depressing uncertainty the announcement from the national commission that despite a wet and soggy field the champion Phillies of the National League and the victorious Boston Red Sox of the American League circuit would meet this afternoon in the first game of the world series, brought unbounded joy to the thousands of followers of baseball here to witness the start of the 1915 battle for the highest honors of the game.

There was an immediate rush for the Phillies' park, the smallest baseball enclosure in either major league, which early gave promise of close resemblance to a carefully packed sardine box when play was begun.

Up to 9 o'clock it seemed that the game would be hardly possible, but an unexpected breaking away of the gloomy clouds influenced the decision of the umpire to recommend that the series start on scheduled time.

Players of both teams were as glad as the fans that there was to be no delay in getting the series under way.

At 12:40 the home players appeared and received a noisy greeting from the bleacherites, the grandstands still being but a picture of empty benches.

ALEXANDER CHEERED.

The Phillies made a careful inspection of the field.

The ground in front of the players' benches was almost ankle deep in mud.

Grover Cleveland Alexander, idol of the Philadelphia fans and the hope of the home team in the series, got a special greeting when he was recognized carefully muffled up in a blue sweater coat. The Phillies wore their regular white home uniforms. The entire Phillie pitching staff, with the exception of Alexander, started to loosen up their arms. At one time eight pitchers with as many receivers were all working.

Shortly before 1 o'clock gasoline was spread along the base lines and set on fire in a further effort to dry out the ground. Then Alexander began to warm up.

PLAYERS TRY RANGE.

There was a cheer for the Red Sox when they appeared. The batting practice was sharp and the Boston players tried out the range on the short field fence. Mays served up the benders for Boston's batting practice while Demaree took the pitching mound when the Phillies took the field for range work.

Alexander and Burns were announced as the battery for Philadelphia. Shore and Cady were announced as the battery for Boston.

Umpire Klem will give the decisions on balls and strikes, Umpire O'Loughlin the decisions on the bases, while Umpire Evans went to left field and Umpire Rigler went to right field.

WIDOW FLEES STATE WITH CHILDREN

Mrs. Mary Balliet, a wealthy widow of 420 Sixty-first street, who was yesterday cited to appear before Judge Ogden and show cause why she should not be made to give up her grandchildren, Robert and Irving Gregory, 6 and 5 years of age, respectively, to the custody of their father, Frank E. Gregory, is alleged to have fled the state with the two boys in her possession.

J. J. Van Hovenberg, attorney for Gregory, has asked the district attorney's office to instruct Sheriff Frank Barnet to have the fleeing woman placed under arrest when her train arrives at Denver, Colo., at 6:30 o'clock this evening, and returned to Oakland with the children. This action will probably be taken, as Judge Ogden yesterday issued a bench warrant for the woman's arrest.

Mrs. Balliett is believed to be on her way to Philadelphia, Pa., where she has a home and relatives. She left Oakland at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at the time that she had been ordered to appear before Judge Ogden on the habeas corpus writ issued at the request of Gregory Van Hovenberg did not learn of the woman's flight until today.

ALSO FROM EAST.

Gregory's home is in Reedsburg, Wis. He arrived in Oakland yesterday morning to claim his children. The two boys have been at the home of Mrs. Balliett since the death of their mother in August, 1909. Gregory lived with Mrs. Balliett and the children up to nine months ago, when he returned to his home in Wisconsin. Several weeks ago, he says, he asked Mrs. Balliett to return the boys to him. She refused to do so he declares, and he traveled half way across the continent to take court action to regain their custody.

He arrived in Oakland yesterday morning. He visited the boys at the Peralta school at 11 o'clock, and then proceeded to Van Hovenberg's offices and the habeas corpus writ was secured.

Shortly after the writ was issued Mrs. Balliett, it is said, left the city on a Southern Pacific train.

ASK SHAKE-UP OF PIEDMONT POLICE

Following three spirited rows in the Piedmont board of trustees last night a shakeup is rumored in the city's fire and police department. W. F. Banks, the present city marshal, it is declared, may be replaced by B. F. Baxter, present city electrician. Members of the board deny that a change is contemplated at the present time, but political leaders intimate that the change later may be made as a concession to the opponents of the present police system.

The recent fire at the Maxwelton farms, at which, it was charged, the firemen left the flames for their dinner, the burning to death of Miss Laura Mills some time ago in a fire on Bowie street and several other matters on which the police department had been criticized, were brought up. The trustees refused to consider any of these. Mayor Ellsworth reprimanded Banks for not having arrested speeders in Piedmont.

"I don't care who it is, if an autoist speeds I want him arrested," said Ellsworth.

SAYS FIREMEN QUIT.

The Maxwelton farm matter was brought up by Tony Cambra, foreman for Mrs. Harry Maxwell, who was present to complain over the failure of the firemen to control the blaze at her farm several days ago. Cambra declared that the firemen left at 6 o'clock for dinner and that Mayor Ellsworth informed the farm authorities that the city had no men for night duty. The matter will be heard, Ellsworth announced, at a later date.

QUAKE CENTER IS NEAR TO CAMPUS

University Instruments Record Tremors as No. 5 in Scale; Four Felt.

BERKELEY, Oct. 8.—Within two or three miles of Berkeley was the center of the thirteen earthquakes which occurred during last night, according to the records of the University of California. The preliminary motion, which varies with the distance of the earthquake was no longer than two-tenths of a second, showing the center to have been very close to the university campus.

Four of the earthquakes were strong enough to be felt by human beings without the aid of instruments. The remainder were of light intensity, but strong enough to give good records on sensitive instruments. The first and strongest of the series occurred at 9:25 p. m. The force of the shock threw the writing pens off of the drum on the two Bosch Omori seismographs, dismantling the instruments. The period of the three movements in this shock were of about one-quarter of a second each.

It was estimated that this earthquake had an intensity of five on the Rossi-Forel scale, which denotes the lightest earthquake as one and the heaviest as ten, and made the one of ... a ...

This first quake began with a sudden jolt and, according to observers, was a sound like an explosion. Rumbling sounds were heard during the movement of the earth. The second quake occurred at 9:29 and was not perceptible to human beings. The third occurred at 9:35 ... had an intensity of 3 to 4. The pen was again thrown off one component of the seismograph.

The fourth earthquake was instrumental and occurred at 9:44. The fifth, a few minutes later, was felt by many people in Berkeley and preceded and accompanied by a rumbling sound. The intensity was 2 to 3 on the Rossi-Forel scale. The sixth occurred at 9:55 and was instrumental. The seventh occurred at 10:21 and was preceded by a sound like a muffled explosion. Its intensity was from 2 to 3. The rest of the shocks were instrumental only and occurred at the following times: 10:50, 11:... and 11:..., ..., and 1:17, 1:59 and 2:57 a. m.

SLASHED IN FIGHT.

Juan Estrada and a Mexican whose name has not been ascertained, engaged in a street fight last night in front of Mike Callert's saloon, Third and Broadway. Estrada was slashed across the face with a clasp knife and was found wounded by Patrolman M. J. Buckley, who had him removed to the Receiving hospital. Estrada was later taken to the city jail and is being held pending an investigation of the cutting affray.

PREDICTS FUTURE OF GROCERY TRADE

Halvor Hauch of Alameda Addresses Convention on New Competition.

Forecasting the competition that grocers will have to meet in the future, in other fields than those generally connected with the trade, Halvor Hauch, of Alameda, past president of the California Retail Grocers and Merchants' Association addressed the conventon of that body today. His talk on "What of Tomorrow?" presenting the results of a careful survey of conditions, was one of the main features of the day's session.

R. H. Bennett, secretary of the Wholesale Grocers' Association, spoke briefly on "Trade Problems" and later the delegates went to Berkeley on a special car as the guests of S. J. Sill. This evening a banquet will be jendered the delegates by the Alameda county association.

"Grocerse are losers in the competitions for the collection of different brands of labeled goods," declared Fred W. Meyers of San Francisco, president of the Reail Grocers' Association of that city. "In their eagerness to collect the labels many women buy two or three times as much from the grocer as they are able to pay for." Meyers said that his association had successfully fought the label problem.

Representatives of branch organizations of the association from different counties and towns submitted reports today of progress made in these centers. Among those who made statements were. Fred Meyer, San Francisco; P. F. McCarthy, Los Angeles; E. S. Hogan, Alameda; J. J. Schmidt, San Jose; C. F. Sundy, Fresno; W. H. Thompson, Eureka; Fred Dieckmann, Marin county; Lucien Beer, Bakersfield; George F. King, Santa Rosa; C. L. Bowen, Marysville, and A. B. Macdonald, San Diego; O. K. Sheppa, Pacific Grove and Monterey; J. Trissell, Napa, and W. H. Brown, Hanford.

PORTUGUESE DELEGATES ATTENDING EXPOSITION

Delegates to the convention of the Portuguese Union of California meeting this week in Foresters' hall are today attending the Exposition. They adjourned there today after a short business session during which reports of officers were discussed. Tomorrow installation of officers will be held and the week's conclave will come to a close.

CURED: ENDS LIFE.

REDDING, Oct. 8.—Manuel Vasquez, thirty, a miner, was struck by a train a week ago, and taken to the county hospital, where he was discharged as cured yesterday. He went to the home of a friend yesterday between Old Diggins and Buckeye and committed suicide with a razor.

C/B a la Spirite Corset

Just a Little Bit In Advance

WHY is it that women who are accustomed to wear the C/B a la Spirite Corset are actually noticeable above the average run of well dressed women, for their smartness?

It is because the C/B Corset always keeps just a trifle in advance of the prevailing fashion. Not far enough to be extreme, but just far enough to be distinctive—to make the newest gowns display themselves to fullest advantage, instead of losing effectiveness, as an ordinary corset can make them do.

For example, the newest C/B models—the Minaret, the Tango, the Debutante Slouch—give the American wearers the same figures which great French couturiers are giving their Parisian patrons now.

No matter what your type of figure, there is a C/B model which will train it into lines of smartest elegance. See the new models here today.

AIVALI IS BOMBARDED BY FRENCH SEAPLANE

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—A dispatch to the Havas Agency from Athens, dated Thursday, says:

"A Mytilene dispatch received here asserts that a French seaplane bombarded Aivali, Asia Minor, Wednesday morning.

"The Australians have made important progress in the Suvla region of the Gallipoli peninsula and on the southern front there.

"According to reliable information from Constantinople, the audacity of the Turks knows no bounds, now that they feel a German attack in Serbia is imminent. Greeks, Russians and British are being [illegible] of the American Ambassador proving ineffectual.

"The disembarkation of the allies at Salonika continues. It is understood that Premier Zaimis has informed former Premier Venizelos a vote of confidence in the government by the Chamber of Deputies is absolutely essential, as a mere vote of tolerance would not give the government the requisite authority to deal with the grave problems of the present hour."

BULGARIAN ANSWER TO CZAR IS DEFIANT

PETROGRAD, via London, Oct. 8.—Bulgaria's reply to the Russian ultimatum is described here as "bold to the verge of insolence." In substance, Bulgaria denies German officers are in the staffs of the Bulgarian armies, but says if they are present that fact concerns only Bulgaria, which reserves the right to invite whomsoever it likes. Regarding acceptance of financial assistance from Germany, Bulgaria maintains the right to make loans wherever it pleases. As to the demand that relations broken with the "enemies of Slavdom," the Bulgarian government asserts it is its privilege to choose friends to suit itself and join with any group it prefers.

The general tenor of the reply is such as to indicate that the Bulgarian government has no objection to withdrawal from Sofia of such diplomatists as disapprove its conduct. The Bulgarian minister at Petrograd, Michael Madjariow, has not asked for or received his passports.

BULGARIA JUSTIFIES WAR

Manifesto Proclaims Downfall of Entente

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, Oct. 8, by wireless to Sayville.—The Frankfurter Zeitung asserts that the Bulgarian government has issued a manifesto to the nation announcing its decision to enter the war on the side of the central powers. This manifesto, as quoted from the Frankfurter Zeitung by the Overseas News Agency, states that Bulgaria would commit suicide if she did not align herself with Germany and her allies.

The manifesto as given out by the news agency follows:

"The central powers have promised us parts of Serbia, creating an Austria-Bulgarian border line, which is absolutely necessary for Bulgaria's independence of the Serbians.

"We do not believe in the promises of the quadruple entente. Italy of the allies treacherously broke her treaty of thirty-three years. We believe in Germany, which is fighting the whole world to fulfill her treaty with Austria.

"Bulgaria must fight at the victor's side. The Germans and Austro-Hungarians are victorious on all fronts. Russia soon will have collapsed entirely. Then will come the turn of France, Italy and Serbia. Bulgaria would commit suicide if she did not fight on the side of the central powers, which offers the only possibility of realizing her desire for union of all Bulgarian peoples."

The news agency says further:

"The manifesto to the people, which is not only a historical document, but contains valuable material in regard to Bulgarian politics and economics, states that Russia is fighting for Constantinople and the Dardanelles, Great Britain to destroy Germany's competition, France for Alsace and Lorraine and the other allies to rob foreign countries. The central powers are fighting to defend property and assure peaceful program.

"The loyal neutrality maintained by Bulgaria has been advantageous up to the present time, the manifesto says, and it is only now that military and economic preparations have been completed.

"The manifesto says that Serbia, the worst enemy of Bulgaria, has opposed the purely Bulgarian population of Macedonia in the most barbarous manner, the male population being compelled to die for Serbia's cause, the women being outraged and the rivers running red with blood."

Russian Negotiations With Bulgaria Bared

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—A Petrograd dispatch to the Daily Telegraph says:

"The history of the negotiations with Bulgaria issued here shows that in July, 1914, Bulgaria was informed that she would secure substantial advantage by supporting the Russian policy, which aims at the peaceful restoration of the Balkan League.

"In the following August on demand of the entente powers Serbia agreed in principle to surrender territory to Bulgaria in return for compensation at the expense of Austria-Hungary. Negotiations continued, without success, to secure Bulgaria's active assistance to the allies or her neutrality.

"After Italy's intervention, the allies made fresh proposals to Bulgaria for her active support, namely the immediate annexation to Bulgaria of Thrace to the Enos-Midia line together with a guarantee at the close of the war of that portion of Macedonia bounded by the line of Palanka, Sopot and Ochrida, including the towns of Egri, Palanka, Koprili, Ochrida and Monastir, and also pecuniary assistance.

"Bulgaria still raised objections and on September 14 last the allies repeated their proposals, asking in return that Bulgaria should conclude a military convention with the allies with respect to her action against Turkey. Bulgaria's only reply to this was an order for mobilization."

Appeals Against Jitneys of Ocean

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—The State Railroad Commission received today from the five principal steamship lines operating on this coast a protest against what President Max Thelen recently referred to as "the jitneys of the ocean." The steamship companies including the North Pacific, the Pacific Coast, the Pacific Navigation and the San Francisco and Portland, are complaining against the lumber carriers, who transport passengers and freight at reduced rates without filing tariff schedules.

In all there are several score companies operating 150 vessels on the high seas. The regular lines ask that the independent companies be declared common carriers on the ground that they are cutting freight rates, and should be placed on an equal basis with the other lines.

At a recent informal hearing the Railroad Commission denied a similar application.

Three Sons of General Are Killed at Front

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—Three sons of General Edouard de Curieres de Castelman have lost their lives at the front. Two of them were killed some time ago, and the death of the other, Second Lieutenant Hugueo de Castelman, who was wounded in the recent fighting in Artois, was announced today.

ALFRED HOLMAN AND C. K. FIELD TALK AT U. C.

BERKELEY, Oct. 8.—Alfred Holman, editor and publisher of The Oakland Tribune, and C. K. In the absence of President Benjamin Ide Wheeler, Dr. David P. Barrows presided. Music was furnished by the California Glee Club.

STEAMERS TO CARRY GRAIN.

By Associated Press.

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 8.—Six large steamships will load more than 1,500,000 bushels of grain at this port during the next six weeks for Europe, according to an announcement by a Grand Trunk railway official. The steamship Murcia is now loading 275,000 bushels for Avonmouth, and will be the first steamer to sail on the fall and winter schedule.

Americans Fly in Champagne Battle

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—Seven American volunteer aviators took part in aerial reconnoissances in the battle in the Champagne district. They are Lieutenant William Thaw of Pittsburg, Sergeant Elliott C. Cowdin of New York, Sergeant Norman Prince of Boston, D. G. Masson of San Francisco, Bert Hall of Bowling Green, Ky., James Bach of New York and H. G. Gerin. Five more American airmen are scouting on other parts of the French line and eleven are in training in an aviation school. These 23 men form the Franco-American flying corps, which has just opened an office and club rooms on Rue de Ponthieu, Paris.

Three of the Americans, Lieutenant Thaw and Sergeants Prince and Cowdin, have been cited in the orders of the day.

McAdoo to Arrive in San Francisco on 20th

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The revised itinerary of Secretary McAdoo's western trip during which he will study public building problems and inspect customs and internal revenue offices was made public today. He will leave here October 12 instead of the 10th, as previously announced. Among the places he will visit and the dates follow:

Salt Lake City, October 17; Reno, 19, and San Francisco the 20th.

Schmidt Jury May Be Completed During Day

By Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 8.—With ten prospective jurors in the box today at the resumption of the trial of Matthew A. Schmidt, charged with murder in connection with the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building October 1, 1910, predictions were made that the panel would be filled during the day.

When the twelfth man is passed for cause and takes his seat in the jury box both the prosecution and defense then will have an opportunity to exercise peremptory challenges. Neither side has made known its plans and it remains to be ascertained how many will be removed from the jury panel throughout the trial.

Judge Frank R. Willis, who is hearing the case, rigidly holds to his determination to have the trial orderly conducted and admonishes attorneys for both sides whenever he deems such action necessary.

"The College Hero" to Be Performed Tonight

The last performance of the "College Hero" at the Auditorium this evening will draw the record audience of the week. The principals and other members of the cast, which includes 500 people, are quite accustomed to their parts after two performances and will carry the show through its rollicking acts to a merry finish. Some of the dancing has been exceptionally good and the choruses are catchy and given with the college spirit. Mrs. Helen Noe, who sings the leading role, is a finished actress with a pleasing voice, and Frederick Harrison Jr., who has the principal male part, have scored hits. Among the well-known local amateurs who have proved their talents in the production is Roxana Wood, whose "pickaninny act" with Carleton Dethlefson, has been one of the delightful comedy hits of the show. Miss Edith Woodward sings charmingly and the dancing of Miss Gladys Gerrish is of a professional excellence.

Athlete Praises Duffy's

MR. JAMES J. KILROY.

Read what Duffy's did for Mr. James Kilroy:

"Last winter I had stomach trouble so bad that all I could eat was milk toast for two months straight. I tried all kinds of medicines and they all failed to do me any good. I went to several doctors, but got no results, until I was advised to get a dollar bottle of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. After using one bottle I found great relief and got so I could eat a hearty meal of meat, potatoes, bread and tea, and now, believe me, I would not be without a bottle of Duffy's in the house. Since using it I have gained many pounds. Before I weighed but 125 pounds and today I weigh 154, am strong as a bull and do a hard day's work. I want to say that I owe all my thanks to Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, and want the world to know what it has done for me—it's a wonderful medicine." — (Signed) James J. Kilroy, 1732 Larrabee St., Chicago, Ill.

SALONIKI LANDING MEANS GREAT RISK

To Take Sophia Would Be Harder Than Dardanelles, Says Officer.

By Associated Press

AMSTERDAM via London, Oct. 8—[illegible] Morath, discussing the Balkan situation in a recent issue of the Tageblatt, [illegible]:

"Against Servia the Bulgarians possess several favorable marching routes and a base of operations not too far from the front to assure the delivery of rapid [illegible], nor too near the frontier to be endangered. Where this base touches the frontier it can be protected by powerful mountain positions, the passes of which are more than 6000 feet above sea level.

"We may assume that Bulgaria will not need to guard with any special strength her Rumanian frontier—Rumania possesses other frontiers, which, if she moves at all, must seem to her in more danger.

"As to the prospective movements of the allied troops from Saloniki—will the Anglo-French army force the mighty mountain chain on the Strome, in order to march on Sofia—such an attempt would make the Dardanelles operations seem like child's play. My opinion is that neither Bulgaria, Turkey nor the central powers need be apprehensive on the Saloniki landing."

TO REPAIR SHIPS.

By Associated Press.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 8. — The armored cruiser Colorado, convoying the gunboat Princeton, arrived at the Puget Sound navy yard yesterday from San Francisco. Both vessels are in need of extensive repairs, the Colorado having seen ten months service in Mexican waters, and the Princeton having suffered severe damage when she ran on a reef during a storm at Samoa a year ago.

U.S. ENVOY FAILS TO SAVE ARMENIANS

London Times Quotes Turk Minister as Determining Extermination Policy.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 8. — The Times in a long article [illegible] details of the Armenian [illegible]:

"The efforts of the American [illegible] the Armenians have proved unsuccessful. Minister Morgenthau [illegible] wasted too much diplomatic energy [illegible] behalf of the Zionists of Palestine [illegible] any force to spare.

"Talaat Bey [illegible] Minister of the Interior, and Bedri Bey, chief of police of Constantinople, [illegible] persecuting the Armenians [illegible] and turn a deaf ear to American pleas. [illegible] German and Austro-Hungarian [illegible] the [illegible] of Armenian [illegible] but the methods of the Turkish [illegible] have [illegible] even [illegible]."

The Times declares no massacres occurred during [illegible] in the early stages of the Caucasus campaign, and it was not until Enver Pasha's [illegible] Russian territory that Armenians began to suffer.

THOUSANDS SLAUGHTERED.

According to Russian newspapers and American missionaries, the Times as[illegible] northwest Persia [illegible] in the Baskala district. It has been said that the policy of massacre and deportation was not undertaken until after the Armenian defense of the town of Van, but the Times professes to have information to the effect that massacres began long before that date.

Talaat Bey is credited with having made the statement at Bitlis. "I intend to prevent any talk of Armenian autonomy for fifty years to come."

Most of the Armenians gave up their arms in accordance with the advice of their clergy. They offered resistance, however, at three widely separated points—Shabin-Karahissa, Kharput and Jebel-Nussar. At some other places they revolted and were overpowered by Turkish troops.

Several of Talaat Bey's personal friends, who were Armenians, including Hadjian Effendi, former minister of public works, and other prominent officials, have been arrested and some of them have disappeared.

The Times correspondent asserts that on August 31 the German and Austrian ambassadors at Constantinople protested to the Grand Vizier against the massacres of Armenians and demanded a written statement to the effect that their governments had no connection with them. But Turkey has not yet complied with the demand.

JURY ACQUITS MEN.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. — Supreme Court Justice Tompkins directed the jury in the trial of the seven members of the Cloak and Suit Makers' Union on charges of murder, to declare Julius Wolff and Solomon Metz, two of the defendants, not guilty. The jury returned the verdict in favor of the two men without leaving their seats.

KREISLER TO PLAY IN GREEK THEATER TONIGHT

The big [illegible] of the [illegible] will take place in the Greek theater in Berkeley tonight, when the world's foremost violinist, Fritz Kreisler, will play two of the most important violin concertos ever written and a brilliant number by Camille Saint-Saens, accompanied by a specially selected symphony orchestra, under the baton of Paul Steindorff. A big throng will fill the huge auditorium to its capacity, and those who attend will be rewarded by hearing the finest concert that has been offered in California in many years. This will be the first time that a great artist has appeared in the Greek theater at night, and the inspiring tones of Kreisler's [illegible] violin will sound doubly inspiring in the sylvan setting of the Classic Greek theater and in the stillness of a Berkeley night. The full program for this festive event is as follows.

Overture, "Leonore," No. 3...Beethoven
Orchestra.
Concerto, A major...Mozart
Mr. Kreisler and Orchestra.
Concerto...Mendelssohn
Mr. Kreisler and Orchestra.
Introduction and "Rondo Capriccioso"...Saint-Saens

The overture will start at 8:15.

FEDERALIZE Your Transportation

You know your trucking requirements, measured by your distance from your market, from your shipping point, the nature and size of your output, etc.

We know that Federal Motor Trucks have proved their efficiency and adaptability in nearly every line of business.

Naturally, then, we're anxious to get in touch with you and have you size up the sturdy, clean-cut design of the Federal, to point out to you its record of economical and dependable service under all sorts of conditions, to call to your attention testimonials of satisfaction offered by hundreds of firms in many and varied lines of industry here in California.

FEDERAL MOTOR TRUCKS

are made in two models, the 1½-ton and the 3½-ton, the former in the Chain Drive and Worm Drive models, the latter in the Worm Drive only.

This Worm Drive model, with its genuine Timken David Brown worm gear rear axle, combines all the sturdiness and service-giving qualities of the Chain Drive Federal, which is still continued, with the added features of silence, cleanliness and remarkable endurance. Worm gearing is 100% efficient as long as it lasts, and it lasts longer than any other form of drive.

Any time you wish for a demonstration of any Federal models, we'll be at your service. Phone us, or write, or call.

We have on file booklets, containing full Federal Truck data and specifications, in the Italian, French, German and Spanish languages.

COUNCIL DEBATES BY NOTE, NOT ORAL WORD

Mayor Davie and Jackson Indulge in Discussion of Legislative Glory

Council deliberations are now being conducted by correspondence, and the mayor and commissioners are displaying great aptitude in the gentle art of letter writing. Instead of debating matters of weight in open session, they have resorted to the more cautious, and vacation-more courteous method of filing communications to be read at City Council meetings in stenographers' notes in the ears of their confreres.

Mayor Davie has had a new letter every day for the past week. Today Commissioner F. F. Jackson caused his stenographer to earn her salary. The mayor replied with a two-page letter. But the councilmen have been smarter than so far as oral exchange of opinions is concerned.

The grist of the council correspondence today was a letter from Commissioner Jackson in reply to Mayor Davie's letter recommending that Jackson make a saving in the department of $48,948 by discharging all the extra firemen. Jackson replied today by letter stating that the idea was not Mayor Davie's at all, but his own, and that even if it were the mayor's it could not be done without an increase in the expense of the department instead of a decrease.

When the letter was read, Mayor Davie said nothing. Commissioner W. J. Baccus could not suppress a grin of appreciation.

"THE EMPTY BAUBLE FAME."

But the silence of the mayor was merely oral. When he reached his office he called for his trusty amanuensis, and dictated a reply in which he said that Commissioner Jackson could have the glory if he wanted it, but that he had suggested it to Jackson at the time of the budget fixing.

Mayor Davie also filed a new letter today as to other economies to be gained by leasing the auditorium to a theatrical concern and dispensing with the services of Manager Buckley. This letter was referred to Commissioner H. S. Anderson for a report.

JACKSON REPLIES.

Commissioner Jackson replied in no uncertain terms to Mayor Davie's letter of recommendations with regard to the fire department.

The letter points out that the change recommended by the mayor concerning the fire department, far from effecting a saving, would be more costly than the present method. He also points out that much of what was suggested by the mayor has already been put into effect, while other recommendations are echoes of matters under consideration in the office of the commissioner.

The letter follows:

"On October 5th this body referred to me by Resolution No. 11463 a communication from the Mayor making certain suggestions in the conduct of the fire department.

"The only suggestion made in said communication which has not already received due deliberation and consideration by my department is the one concerning the blowing of the fire alarm whistle and the 'tooting of whistles, ringing of gongs and bells, blowing of automobile sirens,' etc.

"Real constructive work cannot be accomplished by the mere wave of the hand or the passage of a resolution.

"Both Chief Whitehead and myself are in entire accord as to the advisability of having a permanent full paid fire department and have for some time been working along the lines of securing the same. We have also had many conferences with the president of the civil service board relative to improving the efficiency and curtailing the expense of the fire department.

"In this connection we have been confronted with the question as to what can be done with the 'call men' who for many years have given very valuable services to the city. The records of the department show that 'call men' have been and are eminent, the law being that the chief, first and second assistant chiefs and practically all the officers of the department have risen from the ranks of 'call men.'

WOULD SECURE STANDING.

"I have for some time been conferring with the civil service board, seeking ways and means whereby call men can secure civil service standing. To my mind there can be no question but what men who have for years had actual experience in fire fighting are far better qualified as firemen than those who simply pass a civil service examination.

"To secure efficient men it is, in my opinion, necessary to secure civil service standing for the present 'call men' and from them choose the required number of regular men.

"The Mayor recommends 'dispensing with the services of 25 extramen, 25 substitutes and 19 foremen, which at the present time cost the fire department $48,948 per annum.' This sounds fine, but he fails to show that by doing this and not substituting a fully paid department that the fire department would be absolutely crippled and the fire insurance rates increased to a prohibitive degree. On the other hand, if we establish a fully paid department we will, in order to follow the requirements of the Board of Underwriters of the Pacific, be required to place one regular man for every three 'call men' displaced. The replacement by one regular man for every three 'call men' would reduce the force, but the yearly cost would be greater.

SALARIES AGGREGATE $47,208.

"The salaries of 98 call men and 19 foremen aggregate $47,208 per year, while 39 full paid men to take their place at $102 per month would aggregate $47,736, and the additional officers necessary to handle their men would increase this amount $3000 per year, or an aggregate of $50,736, with a very material increase each year by reason of advanced salaries.

"This conclusively shows that instead of doing away with an expense of $48,948, by dispensing with the 'call men' that it would cost $50,736 to change to a fully paid department, unless we violate the rules of the Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific and make our insurance rates prohibitive.

"Plans are already under way to substitute regular men for 'call men' as rapidly as possible, without increasing the expenses of, or impairing the efficiency of the department.

"Regarding the suggestion of a 'flying squadron' of regular men, the suggestion comes rather late, as a 'flying squadron' has already been established at Engine No. 1 and practically every [illegible] already been taken relative to the establishment of a second one to cover East Oakland and the annexed district.

"Chief Whitehead suggests 'the fire whistle could be discontinued after midnight and when the extramen are dispensed with, it could be discontinued altogether.'

"The suggestion concerning 'unnecessary noises' comes naturally under police regulation and not the fire department.

"Respectfully,
F. F. JACKSON,
"Commissioner of Public Health and Safety."

AUDITORIUM LETTER.

Mayor Davie's letter with regard to the leasing of the auditorium and firing Manager Louis Buckley follows.

"In reference to future operation of the Auditorium of the city of Oakland it appears that in order to avoid any excessive expense in maintaining and operating the theater portion of the building that it would be good business to lease the same to some responsible theatrical corporation at a reasonable rental, and give an income to the city for that portion of the auditorium.

"The auditorium proper, as I understand, was intended for the enjoyment of our citizens in holding local meetings, conventions, etc., and at the same time providing a large capacity for national or international conventions as an advertising medium of the city of Oakland, together with the presentation of such entertainments, etc. that could not be properly housed in privately owned halls or theaters.

"This portion of the auditorium does not require a manager, but an agent, under the commissioner of public works, who, with a few assistants, could maintain and operate the same. Therefore, I recommend the following suggestions, to-wit: Dispensing with the services of a manager at $3600 per year, messenger at $480; chief ticket seller at $1500; advertising agent at $1280; stage carpenter, electrician, property man and other employes, maids, matrons, ushers, etc. incident to a theater.

"With the theater leased the cost of operating and maintaining the auditorium would probably be met by receipts from entertainments, conventions, etc. thus eliminating the burden from the tax payers.

"I recommend that the matter be referred to the commissioner of public works for investigation, study and recommendation to the council.

"Respectfully submitted,
"JOHN L. DAVIE,
"Mayor of the City of Oakland.

DAVIE ON FLYING SQUADRON.

It is immaterial to me who wishes the credit for the suggestion to abolish the extra men and institute fully paid men for the same, as long as the result in the end is obtained for the taxpayers for high efficiency in the fire department. This matter of flying squadrons for the fire department was taken up and discussed at the time of fixing the budget when it was my desire to provide for the extra men in the budget for only six months of the year, giving ample time to install flying squadrons to be effective for the balance of the fiscal year.

If there is any glory in accomplishing good results for the municipality I am willing for any or all officials to take all or part of the responsibility, initiative or credit for the same.

Twenty-five years ago the extra men of the fire department were really the backbone and success of the time. The transformation of Oakland from a town to a metropolitan city taking in large area has made it impossible for extra men to be of any value in the fire department, hence my desire at the time of making the budget last July to eliminate the same and install fully paid men.

J. L. DAVIE.

EIGHT NON-PARTISAN BILL.

The council granted a request from a committee representing the Republican and Democratic parties for the use of the Municipal Auditorium at half the schedule rate for a mass meeting to attack the non-partisan bill. The meeting will be held October 19 or 21. The same privilege was accorded the Progressive party for a mass meeting recently addressed by Governor Johnson in defense of the non-partisan measure. The rate for rental has been set at $75 for each case.

Fox Skins—the finest out of Alaska this year—are at tempting prices at the attractive Gassner Shop.

Then there's a tremendous range of all other furs that are Modish, and all are priced commensurate with their quality at the attractive Gassner Shop.

Our New Cheruit Coat—it is so adorably girlish—is of a choice grade of imported Velour de Laine, and lined with silk, self-colored (you can have it in tete negre, mole, midnight green, or in plum). This Cheruit Coat is severely tailored, or with collar and cuffs of Beaver, Skunk or Racoon. Really a $67.50 coat in value, but priced $57.50 because the Attractive Gassner Shop is a Manufacturing Specialty Fur Shop, and therefore creates fur garments less expensively than concerns buying apparel fully produced.

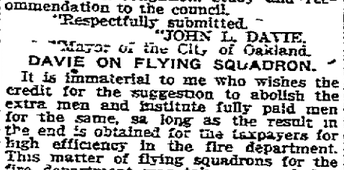

For the same reason, the long Hudson Seal Coats, at $100, are tempting garments, because a much superior quality of this lovely fur is used than could be sold at so moderate a price, if there were "middlemen."

And so with the big, full sweep Hudson Seal Coats, having wide borders of Skunk and great muff-cuffs and high "Chin-Chin" collar, that at Gassner's start at $150.

Mail orders filled intelligently and acceptably.

SCHOOL MUSIC IS TEACHERS' TOPIC

County Association Sees Need of Co-operation: Officers Nominated.

The meeting of the Alameda County Music Teachers' Association held Thursday evening at a downtown restaurant in Oakland brought out a large attendance of members. The chief addresses of the evening were given by Glen H. Woods, supervisor of music in the Oakland schools, and Frank Carroll Giffen, a well-known musician of San Francisco.

The subject of the addresses and discussion was "Public School Music in Its Relation to Private Music Teaching." Both speakers brought out the idea of the need of better co-operation between those engaged in the teaching of music in the public schools and those who teach music privately. Reasons for encouragement were found by both speakers in the growing attention being given to music work in the public schools of America.

Proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State Music Teachers' Association were discussed by the members and most of them endorsed. A report of the finance committee regarding the finances of the recent state convention held in Oakland was made by William Edwin Chamberlain, who reported a healthy balance in the treasury, with all bills paid.

A nominating committee reported the following nominations for officers for the year commencing January 1, 1916: Robert Tolmie, president; Mrs. Zilpha Ruggles Jenkins, vice-president; Edna C. Ford, secretary; Miss Beatrice Clifford, treasurer; directors, Mrs. Carroll Nicholson, Mrs. E. H. Garthwaite, Howard E. Pratt. The officers will be elected at the next meeting of the association in November.

NEWTHOT MOVEMENT FRAUD, IS CHARGED

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—"The whole Newthot movement is a humbug and a fraud," declared United States Commissioner Krull at the close of the hearing yesterday of Dr. Newo Newn New, archbishop of the Newthot Church of the World, as he calls himself, who is charged by the federal prosecutor with using the mails to defraud.

Commissioner Krull took under advisement the question of holding Dr New to answer to the federal grand jury. He will announce this decision Monday.

United States Attorney John W Preston announced sharply that he would bring the matter before the federal inquisitorial body Monday without regard to what the commissioner might do.

LIEUT. GOV. WILL SPEAK.

HAYWARD, Oct. 7. — Lieutenant Governor John Eshelman will address a public meeting in the Woodman hall here Saturday evening, October 16, in support of the non-partisan amendment. In view of the interest taken locally in the non-partisan controversy, he is likely to have a large audience.

PRISON ASS'N TO OPEN CONVENTION TOMORROW

Experts in All Branches of Work and Reform Arrive in Oakland

Wardens, penologists, psychologists and experts in every line of prison work will gather in Oakland tomorrow, when the great convention of the American Prison Association, one of the most important of the year's conventions in Oakland, will open. The association, designed to work for prison reform along practical lines, representatives in every prison in the United States and a prison officer from each of these institutions will be present at the session of the prison workers here.

The convention will be held from tomorrow to October 14. Joseph Perkins Byers, the president of the association, and secretary of the New Jersey State Charities Association, will open the business sessions Monday in the Auditorium.

The delegates, gathering in Oakland, will register tomorrow, a registration booth having been planned for them at the Hotel Oakland, and many, already here, will attend the affair to be given tomorrow at Mrs Phoebe Hearst's Pleasanton Hacienda, where the Congress of Social Service workers is also to be entertained. This convention came to a close today.

MANY NOTED SPEAKERS.

Several notable speakers are scheduled for appearance at the big session. Maude Ballington Booth, wife of the founder of the Volunteers of America, and daughter-in-law of the founder of the Salvation Army, is one of those who will be heard. She will tell of her husband's work among convicts and ex-convicts. Judge James A. Collins, judge of the Indianapolis criminal courts, and the originator of the system of collecting fines on the installment plan, will also be heard. The judge has collected more than $31,000 in fines in this manner without a cent worth of security.

The local committees, composed of prison and police officers, social workers and others, is headed by Captain William I. Day.

Among the wardens and state officials scheduled for speeches are T. P. Sale of Raleigh, N. C., Katherine Davis of New York, A. W. Butler of Indianapolis, A. J. Wells of Frankfort, Ky.; R. H. Lindley of Wisconsin and others. Several judges will be heard, including James P. Gregory of Utah, J. E. Frick of Kentucky and several others.

Kenosha Sessions, president of the Women's Association in the American Prison Association, will tell of her department's work during the session.

F. L. Hoffmann, one of the most noted statisticians on crime and prison affairs, is to be another of the speakers of the convention, telling of comparisons between institutions of different states.

FINES ON INSTALLMENT.

Considerable interest is being taken by prison officials in the installment plan of collecting fines and in changes to be outlined in present parole systems. There will be discussions on the honor system in prisons and on other reforms.

Chief of Police August Vollmer of Berkeley, one of the most widely known scientific criminologists in the United States, as the result of his brilliant research work before police chief conventions, will be the big feature of one of next week's morning meetings, when he will explain the finger print systems as standardized in prison practice. Chief of Police William F. Woods of Oakland will also speak during the convention session, as will Captain of Inspectors Walter J. Petersen.

A. G. Wello of Kentucky, warden of the state prison there, will be heard on the subject of paroles, and Chaplain D. J. Meese of Ohio will tell of his prison work. The Rt. Rev. Bishop William Ford Nichols will be a speaker toward the end of the session.

The Social Workers' Congress, which met this week at the Hotel Oakland as a preliminary to the prison directors' meeting, closed its sessions today when a special meeting was held at the hotel under Miss Beatrice McCall as chairman. Last night J. A. Elston presided at the meeting, which was held in the First Congregational church, Kate Waller Barrett, M. D., of Florence Crittenden home, being the speaker. C. H. Cheney and Professor T. H. Reed of Berkeley also spoke.

GOODRICH VOICES PLEA.

W. W. Goodrich, superintendent of the Municipal Wood Yard, spoke this morning on the unemployment situation, telling of the work of his institution.

"I want you people, in considering this matter to get away from any consideration of whether the object of assistance is worthy or not," he said. "When a cat or dog is found hungry in your yard you either send for the poundman or feed it. When a hungry man comes you seek to set yourself up as a judge over him, and help him with a feeling of superiority.

"Whether a man is deserving or not, society has to help him. It is cheaper to assist a man while there is still hope of his becoming self-supporting or partially so than to help him after he is beyond hope."

An informal discussion followed Goodrich's remarks. This afternoon the guests visited Mosswood Park where a reception was held and Rev. A. W. Palmer demonstrated playground work. Judge D. J. Flenner read bits from James Whitcomb Riley. Tonight state regulation of vice will be discussed by Dr. Catherine Bushnell and several other speakers will be heard.

Arthur Arlett will act as chairman. Last night Professor Thomas H. Reed addressed the congress, urging that better conditions for working men be sought, that they need not seek pleasure only in saloons. Better hours would aid this, he declared.

KING'S DAUGHTERS AND SONS WILL CONVENE

Arrangements for the nineteenth annual convention of the California branch of International Order of the King's Daughters and Sons have ben completed and the program has been announced for the three sessions to be held on Friday, October 15, at the King's Daughters' Home on Broadway. Religious services, reports and the annual election will constitute the principal business of the day.

Miss Clara Morehouse of New York, general secretary of the national organization, will attend as the guest of honor and will install the officers during the afternoon. A reception given for her by the California branch will follow, with Mrs. Matilda Brown, the president, at the head of a committee of hostesses.

Among the prominent women who will take part will be Mrs. C. C. Clay, who is a member of the central council and who will deliver the address of welcome. Others to be heard from include Mrs. Roscoe Jones, San Francisco; Mrs. Charles Lowe, Cupertino, Santa Clara county; Mrs. M. K. Brown, Mrs. J. H. Edson, Mrs. E. S. Hager, Mrs. Ruth Waterman Anderson, all of Oakland; Miss Margaret Davis, Berkeley; Mrs. L. J. Watt, San Francisco; Rev. Paul Smith, pastor of Central Methodist Episcopal church, San Francisco; Rev. E. J. Bradner, pastor of the Shattuck Avenue M. E. church; C. H. Coultes and John Daniels, Boston, Mass.

READINGS AND SONGS.

A program of readings and songs will be given this evening at the First Christian Church, Webster street and Grand avenue, by Mrs. Eleanor Scholes, dramatic reader, and Mrs. Minnie Carter, vocal soloist.

LIE IS PASSED IN OPEN COURT IN WILL CASE

Dr. Francis E. Reynolds, who married Mrs. Mary D. Murphy-Reynolds two days before her death, at which time he received deeds to half of her property, yesterday shouted in open court that his stepson, Lee Murphy, who is suing him for the return of the property, was a liar. Murphy had testified that Dr. Reynolds had offered to bribe him in return for sufficient political influence to secure for him a license to practice medicine.

Murphy, who is a searcher of records, alleges that Dr. Reynolds exercised undue influence in having his mother sign the will and the deeds which left him half of her estate. The case is being heard before Judge Stanley Smith in Department One of the Superior Court.

TO CLOSE CANAL FOR MONTH, SAYS GOETHALS

PANAMA, Oct. 8.—Major-General Goethals decided yesterday not to reopen the Panama canal until the completion of dredging work sufficient to prevent a repetition of the recent slides. A month or more will be necessary for the entire work.

Ninety-five ships are now held up. Many of these are leaving and some are transferring their cargoes to the Panama railroad.

Demands Jurisdiction Over All Koreans in Chentao.

...ated Press
...NG, Oct. 8—The Associated Press ...n officially informed that Japan ...ified China that unless Japan's ... regarding jurisdiction over the ... residing in Chentao, in the Kirin ... of Manchuria, are accepted, Japan ...nue her own course in supporting ...aim, by military force if necessary. ... Japanese claims, it is stated, are based on the May, 1915, agreement between China and Japan. China maintains that Chentao is not mentioned in this agreement and that the previous agreement holds good.

West Indian Storm Has Been Neutralized

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON Oct 8—The West Indian storm reported over the Mexican Gulf headed for the northeast coast, had been "clouded down" last night by a strong high pressure prevailing in the interior United States, and its strength reduced almost to negative proportions.

Reports to the Weather Bureau said the disturbance, central off the northeast gulf coast, was rapidly decreasing in velocity and probably would disappear completely. Storm warnings raised along the coast from Mobile to Cedar Keys, Fla., were ordered lowered.

COLORED BAPTISTS TO NAME OFFICERS

Convention Has Many Addresses of Interest on Program for Week.

The General Baptist Association, a colored church organization in convention this week in the Beth Eden Baptist Church, has an important business program to carry through today. Some of the most interesting addresses of the week are scheduled for today, including talks on "The Evil Tendencies of the Latter-day Fads," by Rev. E. D. Dandridge, Fowler, followed by a general discussion, "Missionary Hindrances" by Mrs Elnora Williams, San Francisco, and "Rescue Work" by Mrs. E. Freeman, Sacramento.

Election of officers and the annual address by the president are events of today, while reports will be received from the district conventions. The session opened with a "Half Hour of Bible Study," conducted by Rev. J. L. Cohron, Fresno. Women's home and foreign mission work engaged the attention of the delegates today and almost the whole afternoon's program is devoted to that subject. President M. F. Gaither of Woodland is chairman of today's gathering.

Women's work will be the theme of the talks and discussions on the closing day of the convention tomorrow. Following is tomorrow's program:

9.00—"Half Hour of Bible Study," conducted by Dr J. A. Dennis.
9 30—Call to order and hearing minutes.
9:40—Paper, "Our Girls," by Mrs. L. J. Williams, Vallejo, short discussion.
10.00—Introduction of visitors.
10 10—Reports of officers and committees; election of officers, miscellaneous business
11.00—Devotionals by messengers of San Francisco Church, sermon by Dr J. A. Dennis, San Jose; offering and benediction.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE'S UNION.

Officers of the Baptist Young People's Union were elected last night as follows. President, L. Williams, Marysville; vice-president, L. N. Crawford, Sacramento; recording secretary, Miss C. Thoms, Vallejo; corresponding secretary, Miss B. Sterling, Stockton; treasurer, Miss Mettie Sloan, Oakland; musical director, Mrs. Cora Diggs, Woodland; state organizer, Miss A. Hartis, Fresno.

It was decided at a Sunday-school session of the association last evening to hold a model Sunday-school Sunday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock. L. J. Williams will be the conductor.

DENIES HIDING AFTER DISASTER ON TITANIC

REDWOOD CITY, Oct. 8.—J. Bruce Ismay, who was president of the International Mercantile Marine, and who survived when the Titanic went down, has written a letter to Justice of the Peace George Seely of this city in defense of his action in going into retirement following the tragedy.

The letter is in response to one written by Seely, whose niece, Miss Louise Seely, a former Cornell student, was lost with the liner, and in which the justice of the Peace called Ismay's attention to the charge that he took to hiding.

Ismay's letter, dated May 4, 1915, at Mossley Hill, Liverpool, follows:

"I am in receipt of yours of the 16th inst. I read the article, to which you refer. I go to Costelloe every year for about ten weeks for salmon and trout fishing at a place I bought there, so you see the article was written under a misapprehension, or presumably so. I am, however, none the less obliged for your kind letter, and much appreciate the kind thought that prompted you to write me."

HIGH HONOR WILL BE PAID TO ARCHBISHOP

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—The pallium will be conferred upon His Grace, Archbishop Edward J. Hanna at St. Mary's Cathedral on Sunday, October 17. The event will be an historic incident in the Catholic church.

The pallium is the insignia of office of an archbishop, and the circumstances under which Archbishop Hanna will be invested with it will make the ceremonies unique.

A pontifical mass will be celebrated as part of the ceremonies in the cathedral.

WROTE CHECK; IS JAILED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—William A. Simms, scion of an old Atlanta family and graduate of the University of Georgia, watched an inheritance of $15,000 melt away under the bright lights, and then started to write checks. Yesterday he stood before Superior Judge Dunne and was sentenced to 18 months in state's prison at San Quentin.

Cottolene is pure and wholesome

The shortening you use in cooking and baking should have all the excellence of the food that is prepared with it.

Cottolene itself is a pure, wholesome food, consisting of ultra-refined cottonseed oil—as fine as the choicest salad oil—and beef stearine from selected leaf beef suet.

Cottolene

is not "just as good" as other cooking and frying fats—it is better than any other—more nutritious, more wholesome, more digestible—better in every way.

Cottolene does not absorb tastes or odors. Heat it slowly and use it over and over for all kinds of frying.

Always use a third less of Cottolene than of any other shortening. Cottolene goes farthest and gives the most gratifying results.

Pails of various sizes. Arrange with your grocer for a regular supply.

Write our General Offices, Chicago, for a free copy of our real cook book, "HOME HELPS."

FEAR STOPS MEN IN POWDER FACTORY

Suspicion That Plotters Caused Deaths Results in Refusal to Work.

By Associated Press.

EMPORIUM, Penn., Oct. 8.—Fearing that a plot existed to attack the plant of the Aetna Explosive Company, where an explosion Wednesday night of 255,000 pounds of smokeless powder destined for the allies, killed four and injured seven seriously, between 400 and 500 employes refused to return to work today.

A report last night said that shortly before the explosion three men of German descent who had been discharged on Wednesday, were seen in the plant. Officials of the company refused to discuss the report.

The mystery regarding the cause of the explosion was increased with the finding of two burning bales of cotton beneath the power and engineering plants. The cotton was removed and the flames were extinguished.

Fur-Trimmed Capes, Form-Fitting Suits May Be Won by Men in 'Dress-Up' Week

Everyone in Nation to 'Doll Up' for Joy of Prosperity

Cold enough?

Sure!

And even if it wasn't, it's the style. Men must wear fur-trimmed capes! It's the latest word. Furthermore, embroidered dress shirts, coats that squeeze in at the waist and have broad lapels, canes with silver handles or ivory—all these are the fashion—and it's up to mere man to doll up for once, even as lovely woman does. That's one of the principal rules of Dress-Up Week.

Woman is supposed to dress up as a matter of course. Man is supposed to dress up as a matter of patriotism. "Dress-Up Week," to be nationally observed, is to be the nation's testimonial to prosperous times. In every city the people are supposed to wear their best clothes, stores will put in special displays, the streets and public buildings will be cleaned and decorated, and joy will reign. Oakland has already started its plans for the celebration, which takes place from October 11 to October 16—starts next Monday.

Woman has had all the fashions before. Now it's Man's turn. Hence the fur-lined and fur-trimmed cape, and the new pointed shoe with the stone buttons.

That isn't all! The suit must be absolutely form-fitting to be in perfect style. Then the shirts! They're to be in all colors—all patterns, and, perhaps, some of the "dressed up" ones will wear the sport shirts or "Hero" shirts, as they're sometimes called, because the hero in the melodrama has affected them for lo! these many years.

The hats will be vari-colored. Male millinery has become no small art. There'll be the combination of half brown and half white—it goes well with a sport shirt—and the red, white and blue stripe.

Men are to blossom like the lillies of Easter—and women may well be jealous.

Shoes with purple or brown "dogs" or gaiters go with yellow gloves and a cane of the same hue. Striped shirts go with this combination. Wide lapels go with all coats. Inlaid buttons go with everything. These are the new rules of Fashion.

HAPPY DIVORCED IN SIX-HOUR SUIT

Files Complaint 9 a. m. and Is Awarded Interlocutory Decree at 3 p. m.

Less than six hours after he had filed his complaint, Frank D. Happy, the electrician, whose marital and other troubles with Margaret Ann Happy have been dragging through the local courts for a year and a half, was yesterday afternoon awarded an interlocutory decree of divorce by Judge Harris, an action which closes the long litiagtion. Happy was awarded the custody of the two children, and instructed to pay $30 a month into the hands of the probation officer for their support.

Yesterday's action is an unusual one in the local courts. Happy's action was filed shortly after 9 o'clock yesterday morning. He had his divorce decree before 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. This was due to the fact that Judge Harris knew all of the facts in the case, and no argument was necessary.

Mrs. Happy filed suit for divorce a year and a half ago, charging her spouse with extreme cruelty. No decree was handed down in this case, which was interrupted two months ago by Happy's arrest on a charge of failure to provide for his children. He was found guilty and last week placed on five years' probation. In his divorce action Happy charged desertion.

BASEBALL GAME BY ELECTRICITY IS SHOWN

Actuated by electric currents hurled across the continent, the great Pantages playing score board, wonderful device by which the world's series is being shown by machinery in Oakland, made its debut today. The first game played showed graphically the success of the new invention, the effect of which is practically the same as seeing the game itself. Every play was played on the great electric board, and every delicate change in the situation on the diamond was shown perfectly. Baseball fans for years have claimed that this is impossible, but the new patented device at the Pantages has disproved this.

Lil Marcan, famous Coast League baseball player, and baseball star of the first water, is superintending the operation of the board, and expert operators have charge of the mechanism and the leased wire that brings the news of the game into the theater.

The new score board will be operated every day of the big series. The games will start promptly at 11 o'clock, there being three hours difference in time between the West and East.

Every play will be shown on the board less than a second after it occurs on the field. The new playing board is exclusively controlled on the coast by Manager Pantages, and is operated by his own experts, who for months have followed the game and rehearsed the operation of the big switchboard that controls the delicate and almost thinking mechanism.

"HOLY CITY" CANTATA AT ST. PAUL'S SUNDAY

Gaul's "Holy City" cantata will be rendered in St. Paul's church at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon by a choir of fifty voices led by Edwin Dunbar Crandall, who has returned to the church as choir leader, after an absence of five years. The rendition will be in the nature of a reunion celebration and will be taken part in by many of the members of the old choir. Crandall joined St. Paul's choir seventeen years ago and was its leader until five years ago, when he left to become a member of the choir of the First Methodist church.

FRANKLIN SCHOOL LECTURE.

The second lecture in a series that is being given by Arthur I. Street of Berkeley at the Franklin school, Ninth avenue and East Sixteenth street, will be delivered this evening. Under the general head of "In Line With the Hour," he will deal with the events that have taken place since his talk on September 10.

LOSS OF WIFE NOT SO BAD AS THEFT OF INDIAN BLANKETS

REDDING, Oct. 8.—Susie Washoe shot Frank Thompson in the leg at Indian Camp, justifying her action by the fact he continually followed her. The woman is in jail and Thompson is in the hospital. Susie is from Susanville.

Thompson says:

"Tom Scott stole my wife, my money and I lost my job and blankets. I don't mind losing my wife, but I hated to lose the blankets. When I went to get my blankets she shot me."

DR. GULICK TO SPEAK AT Y. W. C. A. SERVICE

Dr. Sidney Gulick, field secretary for the Federal Council of Churches of America, will speak on "The New Asia and America's Response" next Sunday afternoon at the 5:30 o'clock vesper service at the Young Woman's Christian Association.

His address will sum up the conclusions reached during twenty-six years' residence in Japan, where he is recognized as an authority on questions relating to that country and where he is in close touch with the moral leaders and thinkers. Two years ago Dr. Gulick returned to America to undertake the field secretaryship, but last year made a semi-official trip to the Orient with the dean of the Chicago University in order to promote a better understanding with Japan.

It is Dr. Gulick's belief that the great problem of the United States lies to the west, that Europe does not concern us so much as the Orient and that this country should prepare for peace in that direction.

ASKS DAMAGES OF ROAD.

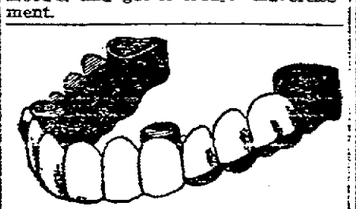

Charles Pergeson has filed suit in the Superior Court asking $50,000 damages of the Western Pacific Company for the death of his wife, Hattie Bryan Pergeson, who was killed by a train of the company October 9, 1914. The accident which caused the woman's death occurred at East Tenth street and Fifty-first avenue.

DO YOU SUFFER FROM BACKACHE?

When your kidneys are weak and torpid they do not properly perform their functions; your back aches and you do not feel like doing much of anything. You are likely to be despondent and to borrow trouble, just as if you hadn't enough already. Don't be a victim any longer.

The old reliable medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla, gives strength and tone to the kidneys and builds up the whole system.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar combination of roots, barks and herbs. No other medicine acts like it, because no other medicine has the same formula or ingredients. Accept no substitute, but insist on having Hood's, and get it today.—Advertisement.

$15 MEN'S SUITS

that are vastly better than the price signifies

If you want to know just how much fifteen dollars will buy, invest it in one of S. N. Wood & Co.'s $15 men's suits.

You'll see garments as sightly as you could wish to wear, as staunchly made as any you have ever worn, and finished with a thoroughness above criticism.

There is never a question as to getting just the style you want—we have every known model. Never a doubt, either, as to fit—we guarantee that.

We've spent years in perfecting S. N. Wood & Co.'s clothing, and we've done it---sure.

Women's Suits $15.00 and $19.75

If you intend to pay either of these prices for your winter suit, it is a real duty for you to see the superb variety that is here before you buy. Because there is scarcely a model the foremost manufacturers have created this season that is not included at this nominal price. They are the most phenomenal combination of reliable material and workmanship and exclusiveness that the women of Oakland have had the privilege of selecting from.

Girls' Coats

The little model illustrated is of heavy corduroy, though we also have them in zibeline and mixtures. This one is $5.95, though others are $4.95 and $3.95.

Rain Capes $1.95

Has an attached hood and separate school bag worn over the shoulder.

Dresses $2.45 and $2.95

Of serge and corduroy—plain tailored models in navy, brown, green and black and white checks.

Pay $4.95

For a two pants Norfolk Suit for boys from 6 to 16 years. And for school wear there is nothing to equal it at the price. Has patch pockets and sewed down belt.

Pay $12.50

for the "Chester"—a rip snorting Suit of exceptional value.

Just the right lines, just the right patterns, all the little details that a live chap insists upon and a price that is neither too high nor too low.

Fancy Cheviots—several different models—ages 14 to 21 years.

$5 Trimmed Hats

Plenty of attractive models—all desirable shades and very good values.

AN ERA OF DESTRUCTION.

The people of the Pacific Coast, living as they do in a big sphere of big effort and big achievement, are perhaps more cosmopolitan in thought and outlook than the people of any other section of the United States. The best traditions of the East, the North and the South have been brought here and wedded to the grandest and best of the West. We live upon the shore of an ocean that links us to the lands and civilizations of Asia, the islands between and the Antipodes. We have considered this ocean as "linking" us to and not dividing us from the lands on the other side, and through this view have acquired a perspective bigger than any section of our country.

This modest survey is merely to explain the existing popular conception that "provincialism" is an evil and a sin. Any American citizen who does not consider the interest of the American nation as more important than the interests of any section has not yet qualified for the highest duties of American citizenship. Sectional appeals, prejudices and discriminations are relics of a past era. We know those who revive and prosecute them as lacking in balance and the proper capacity for national citizenship. It is a cause for congratulation, though not self-praise, that the Pacific Coast states have never been marked by such errors.

From this exalted state we recall with pain, and regret at our failure to understand the cause, that one month hence, on November 4th, the La Follette-Furuseth seaman's bill will become effective as a Federal law and that by that date there will not be a single merchant ship in the trans-Pacific trade flying the American flag. The available deep-sea tonnage, for a long time inadequate, will have been reduced over 60 per cent through the destructive effect of this law. There will be no American ships to carry American passengers to and from the Orient, or to carry American mail thence and to the Philippines. Our products must go out in foreign bottoms. Shipping companies out of business, ship employes out of jobs; Pacific Coast lumber and flour and other exports denied the Oriental markets—all to the advantage of Japanese and British-Canadian interests. The trade of this port and all the others from Seattle to San Diego stifled and destroyed through the forced withdrawal of the transportation facilities which built it up after a half-century of patient, hard, up-hill work.

If we could see some other section of our country benefiting by our misfortune it would not be so bad. The seaman's bill drove American shipping out of the Pacific trade because it made the employment of Oriental seamen impossible. The employment of Oriental labor was necessary to the financial success of the American ships because in no other way could they compete with Japanese and British subsidized ships. The ships in the Atlantic trade were not subject to the same conditions, yet the seaman's bill has not meant the slightest benefit to the eastern coast, nor to any other section of the country. It has merely meant disaster to the Pacific Coast and to California in particular.

President Wilson, who signed the bill and who was informed months ago by his own advisors of the certain effects of the law, had the power to give relief but he declined to exercise it. Now it is too late. We were not surprised at his indifference. Since assuming the office of President Mr. Wilson has evidenced a knowledge of the existence of the Pacific Coast in two instances; he sent his Secretary of State to Sacramento to advise against the passage of the anti-alien land law and he has refused, for one reason and another, to send a fleet of naval vessels to anchor in San Francisco bay and thus contribute materially to the success of the exposition.

Upon the other hand we observe the administration almost violently engaged in an effort to force upon the country a scheme of government ship-ownership to supply transportation facilities not demanded by the conditions of trade between the Atlantic Coast and South America; of preparations to send a costly junketing commission to "investigate" opportunities for increasing the trade between South American ports and New Orleans, Galveston, Houston, Newport News, Va., Baltimore and New York; of the Secretary of the Treasury depositing in reserve banks of the South a $30,000,000 "sop" for Southern votes.

The series of games for the "world championship" in baseball opened today. More people will have their minds on these athletic contests as they occur than has been the case in any other "world" event since the last "world" series a year ago. The excitement and interests grows as one moves eastward. In the cities where the games are played there will be little business transacted during the afternoons and in other cities in the Eastern and Central States people will flock to the score boards to the neglect of their usual affairs. "Baseballitis" will assert itself in its most virulent form during the next five or six days. The reason for this is that baseball occupies the first place in the regards of the American public over all other athletic sports. It is peculiarly an American game, just as much so as the tango is an American animal. Just now it is having its inning. The President and members of his cabinet are away from Washington today and we should not expect any progress in the negotiations with Great Britain and Germany, or in the wedding preparations, until the premier American battle is decided. Newspapers that wish to meet the demands of their readers must give full accounts to all the details and the "Great American Game" will consume more white paper during the series than the European war will in a month. Baseball is an American institution and the excitement of the present is an annual phase of the American nervous temperament. We had just as well get into the spirit of the moment and learn about the cunning of Alexander and the mighty slugging of Speaker. It will give us brief respite from the obsessions of French, Joffre, Von Mackensen, Von Hindenberg and Enver Pasha.

"That is a lie" is a phrase with a "punch" to it. It is a great labor-saver and time-saver in verbal efforts to characterize and explain. If one is confronted with an objectionable statement that he does not know to be true and finds himself at a loss to explain in temperate language that the statement is not based on fact he very often passes the ugly word and thus substitute his own contrary opinion for his opponent's. The proceeding also saves him the task of explaining his view or his side of the disputed issue. In not more than one case in ten are such tactics convincing to the gallery, because they display a certain amount of cowardice, lack of patience and mental balance. Not long ago we heard one of the country's educators urge an Oakland audience to avoid some of the stock and somewhat hollow phrases in general use—such as "classy" to describe a fine discrimination of a good thing, "out of commission" and such favorites of the poets as "unfurled" and "emprise," as having outworn their efficiency. In the shadow of recent proceedings in municipal and county official boards it seems that the word "lie," always obnoxious, is much overworked. More to be deprecated than the use of the word is the infirmity of temperament that fathers it. No real progress can come out of it. The people who are watching intelligently the course of the community's civic affairs are not even entertained by it. It means a dead loss. The time has come to bar the word from the deliberations of public bodies and substitute therefor a calmer and less offensive phrase which will not be a vulgar example for the school schildren of the city who are being asked to free themselves of inappropriate verbal obsessions.

A delegation of inmates of Sing Sing penitentiary called on Warden Thomas Mott Osborne the other day and laid before him plans for the organization of the Italian-American bank of Sing Sing. They have drawn up their rules and by-laws, a proposed charter and selected their chairman of the board of directors. The latter is serving his eighth term in prison and was chosen for his high moral character. The prisoners explain that since the authorities have been paying them for their labor a great many of them have been needlessly squandering their earnings in moving pictures and other forms of riotous living, while others do not feel altogether safe in carrying around such large sums of money as they now possess. The men now are paid a cent a day, but there is a movement afoot to increase their wages. Warden Osborne admits that the innovation certainly increases their sense of responsibility. If this is so perhaps the Italian-American bank would not be a bad thing. As we understand it, Warden Osborne's experiment in prison reform is sanctioned by the idea of getting the highest reformatory value out of the prison sentence by treating the convicts a little more humanely than has been the custom. The bank scheme, however, holds many uncertain possibilities. It is possible it might be used as an experimental school in forgery, check-raising and safe-blowing. If a secret service bureau should be formed the instruction could be extended to means of evading detection and escaping capture by the officers of the law.

The Haytian revolutionaries have agreed to discontinue their activities. At a conference with the American Consul at Cape Haytien and General Carlos Zamor this week the rebel leaders signed a formal compact to lay down their arms, in return for which the American marines from the cruiser Connecticut are to be withdrawn from Haytian soil. Other of Rear Admiral Caperton's forces employed in protecting and administering the customs service and in policing the towns will not be withdrawn. The marine battalion from the Connecticut was engaged as a punitive expedition against the rebels and inflicted severe losses upon them.

Mayor Davie is going about the city these cool autumnal evenings urging the people, with more or less profanity, whenever he can get them to listen to him, to smash the Oakland newspapers and give their support to San Francisco papers, which are now engaged in fighting the attempt of this city to secure its future and to make certain its prosperity by obtaining that differential in freight rates to which its favored position fairly entitles it. Not one of Mayor Davie's San Francisco newspapers has said a word in favor of Oakland's strong, just and equitable demand. They are opposing it.

An English Boy.

I won't tell him to read his Bible and love and serve God. If he don't do that for his mother's sake and teaching, he won't for mine. Shall I tell him to mind his work and say he's sent to school to make himself a good scholar? Well, but he isn't sent to school for that, at any rate not for that mainly. I don't care a straw for Greek particles or the digamma, no more does his mother. What is he sent to school for? Well, partly because he wanted to go, so if he'll only turn out a brave, helpful, truth-telling Englishman and gentleman and Christian, that's all I want.—From "Tom Brown's School-Days."

Japan's Glass Industry Grows.

The Japanese glass factories are among the beneficiaries of the war and the trade has suffered but little from the anti-Japanese boycott in China. Since the devastation of Belgium a number of glass-importing nations have come to look to Japan for the supply of glass, according to the Mainichi of Osaka. As a result it is said there are large orders from China, India, the South Seas, Australia and Africa. These orders remain unfilled owing to the scarcity of ship space available and partly to the shortage of goods. There being a prospect of continued prosperity in the trade the Asahi Glass Company has decided to set up a third factory, machinery and plant for which have already been ordered from America.—Japan Chronicle.

Protracted Weddings.

In Russia marriage festivities usually extend over several days. The Russian peasant always marries young, and very much in the mood for excitement. On the night before the wedding there is a dance, which lasts until daylight, and on the day of the marriage the bridegroom walks through the town scattering gifts to the children. For several days following the event there are more dances.

Norway also runs to protracted weddings. After the ceremony there is a dance on the village green. The next day the festivities are resumed, and possibly they may extend into the following day. Generally all of the wedding party wear the national costume.

"Willie, did you say your prayers last night?" the minister asked.

"No," Willie answered, "and I didn't say 'em the night before last, and I ain't a-goin' to say 'em tonight, neither; and then, if there don't anything get me, I ain't ever a-going to say 'em."

CHOPIN'S HEART IN MOSCOW.

Before the Russians left Warsaw they sent away from that city its most precious relic, the heart of Chopin, which had been kept in a casket in the Church of the Holy Cross there since 1849. It is now in a place of safety at Moscow. Shelley's heart was also preserved in a casket. When the poet was drowned off Leghorn in 1822 his body was cremated by Byron, Leigh Hunt and Trelawney and his heart rescued from the flames by the last named. When King Robert Bruce of Scotland died in 1329 his heart, too, was preserved in a casket. It was given to his friend, Sir James Douglas, to be buried in Jerusalem. On his way out of Palestine, Sir James Douglas fell, fighting against the Moors in Spain, and as he fell he threw the precious relic before him in the battlefield, crying out, "Now, pass onward as thou wert wont, and Douglas will follow thee or die." The heart was found next day by Sir Simon Leigh, who brought it back to Scotland, where it was buried in the Monastery of Melrose.—London Chronicle.

GOOD BYE.

Goodbye, September Morn!
We'll miss your shy, sweet, dimpled smile
And your pure, naked, maiden grace.
The little stream in which you stood
Goes rippling on through autumn wood
And fields of ripening corn.

But you, September Morn,
Are wedded to October Knight.
With gold and crimson, regal, quite—
Now you are dressed, and full your arms
With fruits from his rich yielding farms,
Your beauty to adorn.

Goodbye, September Morn!
Though much we loved your sunny smile,
Your blue eyes smiling all the while,
We yield you to the October Knight,
Whose frosty armor glistens bright—
Goodbye, September Morn!

—Barbara Allen.

WHY? And Other Questions

HOW MAYOR DAVIE AND HIS BRAND OF FALSE ECONOMIES HAVE IMPRESSED AN INTELLIGENT WOMAN

To the Editor: Apropos the new administration which, personally, has been watched with intense interest, please allow the following to be suggested:

The modus operandi of the new administration, (or, is it new? Or just the continuation of the twenty-year-ago regime?) is sounding the death knell of Oakland's wondrous progressiveness. However, while the economic spirit is at its supreme height and the wholesale elimination of important city officials is going on, would it not be extremely wise and befitting for Mayor Davie to obliterate Oakland's civic expenses in their entirety and follow the precedent of another very famous and self-immortalized man by nailing a high to-let sign on front our new city hall? For why a city hall with its enormous expenses if there are no "necessary" city officials to occupy said edifice?

Surely, a $2,000,000 building is far too expensive and valuable for merely a parading place, and a card reading on nearly every door: "Nobody Home." And, while Mayor Davie is thinning out Oakland's municipal orchard, and cutting out the best, is it not only a matter of time when there will be no fruit bearing trees, no prosperity. Then, why the necessity of taxpayer? Why not save Oakland the mayor's cute little salary? Or, if Mr. Davie is thoroughly democratic and not too monopolistic and capitalistic, why does he not ask the city to take a slice from his salary and apply it to one from whom he has taken his "daily bread?"

Tut, tut! All this talk about municipal economic financial heart-interest is political bluff!

Any one can be on the firing line, but to fire with accuracy and with fine future knowledge is a different proposition.

If everything in Oakland is going to be cut and closed down, why then, the need of an administration? Mayor Davie is going to ruin Oakland—one of the greatest and most glorious cities on earth—if he is given full sway. He is pulling the cap of antedeluvianism over its smiling, prosperous and magnanimous features and cruelly undoing what the makers and builders have done for Oakland the past fifty years.

No city can progress that is smothered with false economics, no progress can be made by dwarfing a city's growth; no city's growth can be attained minus an occasional downpour of golden shekels in the right places, to the right persons and for the right purposes. But, Mayor Davie cannot grasp the philosophy of the above truism, nor does he seem to realize the weight, value and strength of, "United we stand, divided, we fall!"

No highly finished master mind works for a pittance. Take the master minds out of Oakland's city employes as Davie has been doing and Oakland will retrogress into its somnambulistic experiences of twenty years ago.

"History repeats itself."

The truth of facts is, that Mayor Davie does not want any man in office who knows more than he.

Concerning the $3000 Davie automobile and the Davie Ax Act, let it be seriously said: The best purpose can be obtained from the $3000 auto, is by using it for a hearse in which these dearly beloved, bereaved and beheaded city officials can ride, and other city officials ought to ride to their own funerals and thereby save more expenses.

"Wisdom groundeth her laws on an infallible ruling of comparison."

I have watched Oakland grow since 1866 and feel the "inalienable right" to speak.

I thank the editor of The Tribune for the generous space he has allowed me in his splendidly progressive newspaper.

'USEFUL SERVICE:' MRS. LOLA BALDWIN

Thus Does She Describe Her Work as Dignified, Not Dashing.

To the Editor: Believing that it is the [illegible] of The Tribune to publish only the truth and that your paper would not [illegible] any form of welfare work for women I ask that a correction be made in justice to myself and the work I represent.

I have spoken in many American cities and came to Oakland as a guest to assist at a local conference and this is the first time that I have been held up to any kind of ridicule by the press. I refer to the article with the caption "Copette," in the issue of October 7. The photo was given with great reluctance to your representative and only on the promise that it would be used with other workers attending the social conference. I never told a representative of The Tribune that "I carried a pistol and a star—never used them"; never told any one I considered being called a "copette" an honor, as I had never heard the word. Neither did I express the thought that there is an "ever-growing field for police women," for I do not believe it. I have never considered that the position I hold is one of any great honor, but I do believe it is one where valuable service may be rendered to womanhood. In justice to the stranger within your gates and to the most ex-[illegible] work which Miss [illegible] Call is doing in Oakland, I ask that the correction be made. Very respectfully,

LOLA G. BALDWIN.

NAVY BOARD FOR EDISON LABORATORY

Prompt Approval of Wizard's Plan Is Vouchsafed by Advisors.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. — Thomas A. Edison's plan for the establishment of a mammoth research and experimental laboratory, where three shifts of men would be worked day and night, making time an essential of their labors and enveloped in the utmost secrecy, has been approved by the naval consulting board.

The board went over, step by step, the first of the proposed radical changes in policy through which they hope to build up the sea arm of the nation's defense—the research laboratory.

Daniels was host at luncheon at the Army and Navy club, during which a subcommittee submitted a program for dividing the twenty-three scientists and inventors into groups for the study of specific problems.

It was decided that there should be committees on chemistry and physics, aeronautics, including internal combustion motors, electricity, standardization, torpedoes, mines and submarines, ordnance and explosives, wireless and communication, production and manufacture, ship construction, steam engineering and ship propulsion, life saving appliances, [illegible]

Although the board will enter upon its task with such facilities as are available at once, it will not be able actually to undertake the work contemplated by Daniels and its membership until the research laboratory has been provided.

PLAN HEARTILY APPROVED.

In a statement the board gave its unqualified approval of the plan. The laboratory, which will represent an immediate investment of $5,000,000 for grounds, buildings and equipment and an annual operating expense of $3,000,000, should, in the board's opinion, be constructed on tidewater of sufficient depth to permit a dreadnought to come to the docks, near but not in a large city, so that supplies and labor may be easily obtained. The laboratory, the board further recommends, should be of complete equipment to enable the construction of working models and their testing to destruction.

Some of the gigantic scope of the projected plant may be gained from a list compiled by the advisory scientists, designating in the equipment of the laboratory a pattern shop, a brass foundry, a castiron and caststeel foundry, machine shops for large and small work, a sheet metal shop, a forge shop for large and small work, a marine railway sufficiently large to enable the construction of experimental submarines of 1500 tons, a woodworking shop, a chemical laboratory, a moving picture developing and printing department, complete drafting room, an electrical laboratory and a wireless laboratory distant from the main plant for the testing of explosives.

As to the administration of the projected plant the board recommends that the research laboratory be in charge of a naval officer of rank, chosen for his especial fitness.

ELECTRIC R. R. MEN ARE GUESTS

Delegates to Convention Are Taken on Trip About Bay, Visit Oakland.

More than 200 members of the American Electric Railway Association, who have been in convention in San Francisco, are today the guests of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways in a trip about the bay, luncheon and automobile ride about the east bay cities. Officers and members of the board of directors of the corporation are acting as hosts.

The party left the exposition on a special Key Route boat, after the convention delegates had been presented with a bronze plaque by the fair directors. Luncheon was served on the boat, which took the party to various points about the bay, going as far as Richmond. During the afternoon souvenirs were given to each of the visitors.

Returning to the Key Route pier the party embarked on a special train and went to Berkeley, where the visitors were placed in automobiles and driven about the Thousand Oaks district, the Berkeley hills, through the University grounds and to the Greek Theater. Later the party were taken about Lake Merritt and other points of interest about Oakland.

The convention of the railway association was closed yesterday with the election of national officers for the ensuing year, the reports of convention committees and an address by Bion J. Arnold, chairman of the board of supervising engineers of the Chicago Traction Company. The newly-elected presidents of the various associations are:

American Electric Railway Association, Charles L. Henry, Indianapolis, Ind.; American Electric Railway Accountants' Association, T. P. Kilfoyle, Cleveland, O.; American Electric Railway Manufacturers' Association, Thomas Finegan, San Francisco; American Electric Railway Engineering Association, John Lindall, Boston, Mass.; American Electric Railway Claims Association, George Carson, Seattle, Wash.; American Electric Railways Transportation and Traffic Association, H. A. Nicholl, Anderson, Ind.

Arnold, in addressing the convention on "The Foundation Principles of the Valuation of Electric Railways," took occasion to bid his auditors to "stop worrying" about municipal ownership.

"Let us spend no more time," he said, "worrying about whether immediate municipal ownership or ultimate municipal ownership is what the people want. Chicago once tried to get municipal ownership, but failed because the city could not raise the money. A study of bond limits and the indebtedness of other cities shows like conditions. The point I want to make is that we must cease wasting our energies in opposing a public movement that will surely come, in spite of opposition, if it is economically sound, and direct our attention to the terms of the purchase clause and the conditions of a resettlement franchise."

GOVERNOR REFUSES TO END BIG TRIALS

Rockefeller and Others Find Their Counsel Is Not Taken.

By Associated Press.

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 8.—The more than 1000 persons made defendants in cases growing out of the recent coal strike in Colorado must go to trial. Hope—held out strongly during the past week—that Governor George A. Carlson would order a sweeping dismissal of the cases pending, flickered out at midnight last night when the chief executive, after several hours' deliberation, refused to interfere in the prosecutions. This decision was the culmination of a series of conferences between Governor Carlson, labor leaders, state officials, advisers and prominent citizens of the state. Among those who were understood to have favored dismissal was John D. Rockefeller Jr., now in Colorado on a tour of investigation of the various mining camps of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company.

The decision of Governor Carlson, which was a surprise to even those in circles close to the administration, came only a few hours after the announcement of the action of the Supreme Court ordering the release on bail of John R. Lawson, labor leader and one of the foremost figures in the conduct of the recent strike, who has been confined in a Trinidad jail since his conviction several months ago of first degree murder in connection with strike disorders.

VINTNERS BEGIN IMPOST BATTLE

They Tell Congressmen Tax Means Ruin of State Wine Industry.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—Laying the foundation for what may mean a fight for the very life of the wine industry of the state, members of the California State Viticultural Association met with a congressional delegation at the Palace Hotel this morning.

There were present Senator James D. Phelan and United States Congressmen Julius Kahn, E. A. Hayes, J. D. Elston and John A. Baker. Internal Revenue Collector J. J. Scott also attended. The officials of the Viticultural Association present were C. J. Wetmore, president; Frank W. Swett, Sheridan Peterson, Secondo Guasti, J. H. Beach, H. J. Stole, V. H. Bundschu, W. N. Griffen, Paul Masson and H. M. Sheehan, who is secretary of the association.

The purpose of the meeting was to endeavor to show the congressional delegation that the wine industry of the state was threatened if the present [illegible] cent tax on brandy for fortifying purposes was [illegible] and that there was little doubt that disaster would follow the introduction of a tax of $1.10 a gallon, Collector Scott asserted, would be put in force [illegible] to take effect [illegible]. Up to the outbreak of the war the tax on brandy for fortifying wine was [illegible] cents. Emergency measures caused it to be raised to [illegible] cents as a temporary expedient. The term of this tax expires December 31. According to Collector Scott, however, if no further provision is made for a tax by Congress he will be forced to charge the regular tax of $1.10, whether brandy is used for fortifying purposes or not. Heretofore the commercial rate of $1.10 has been automatically set aside by legislation.

TO DISCUSS MILITARY.

INFLAMED SKIN SOON SOOTHED BY POSLAM

If you are not familiar with the rapid action of Poslam in the treatment of skin troubles, you will be astonished to see how readily it takes hold and accomplishes its work.

Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Psoriasis, Scalp Scale, Salt Rheum, Barber's and all forms of itch are especially responsive to its remedial virtues. Slight troubles, such as Pimples, Red Noses, Rashes, Complexion Blemishes, etc., respond so readily that over-night treatment is oftentimes sufficient.

And as to the soap you use—if ordinary soaps irritate, try Poslam Soap, medicated with Poslam.

BUY SHOES FOR LESS

No Use Paying High Prices Now—Local Store Cutting Prices and Setting a Pace That Few Can Follow

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 8.—Here is a real chance to save money on your shoe bills. "The Shoe Market," Oakland's greatest cut-price shoe store has surely put the "shoo" to shoe prices. They now are conducting a sale that should interest every one that wears shoes. Splendid shoes for men, made of gunmetal, are on sale now for $1.95 and $2.45; the latest styles are represented. You should visit the basement department. My, what a sight your eyes will behold. There are shoes and shoes and shoes, rack after rack, table after table, of the greatest footwear bargains you ever saw. They are showing on the main floor women's $3.50, $4.00 and $5.00 new Fall boots, and just think, the price is cut to $2.45 and $2.95. School shoes for the boys and girls are cut away down in price and the variety shown cannot be beat. The shoe market is located at 1110 Washington street, and it will pay you well to visit this store tomorrow.—Advertisement.

SUICIDE ATTEMPT BY VIVIAN LYONS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—"I want Bobby! I want Bobby!" This was the plaintive cry of Vivian Lyons, former actress and sweetheart of Robert J. Widney, local realty broker and son of Judge R. M. Widney of Los Angeles, who was taken to the Harbor hospital early this morning, suffering from poisoning following an alleged attempt at suicide.

"Bobby has left me," continued the young woman tearfully. "He has gone for good this time. He is jealous of his own brother Arthur. I never gave him any cause, either. We were so happy together! I want him back. I can't live without him."

SHE BLAMES ARTHUR.

Miss Lyons, who was little the worse for her experience this morning, blames her predicament on Arthur Widney, who is associated with his brother in business. She says that the first quarrel with Robert came four days ago when he left her at the Dumas Hotel, where they have been living since moving from Alameda a month ago. He registered, she says, at the Manx Hotel. Yesterday they made it up again, but last night she received a letter from Widney in which he told her he was through and that her conduct on the night previous, which was spent at Arthur Widney's apartments, had made it impossible for them ever to be reconciled again.

"He sent me some money," said Miss Lyons, "and told me more would follow. I can't do without him, though, and I won't. He has got to come back to me. I blame all the trouble on Arthur Widney. I went there Wednesday night with Robert and we remained there until yesterday morning. I thought everything was all right and expected Robert to leave the Manx and return, but instead he sent me this note. I was heart-broken and took the poison."

HER FORMER CASE.

Miss Lyons was tried in the Superior Court three years ago for assault with intent to commit murder after Widney had been shot in her apartments. Later she was acquitted, after Widney had testified that the shooting was accidental. Widney has a wife in Los Angeles, who has refused to divorce him up to the present time, although he has been living with Miss Lyons ever since 1912. Arthur Widney also achieved notoriety two years ago when he was prosecuted on a technical charge of white slavery by Noel Murphy, a woman of the tenderloin. He was released on probation by Superior Judge Dunne. He is a realty broker here.

REPORTED MISSING.

Fred Eichelroth, 55 years of age, was reported missing by his wife from their home, 1346 Eighty-seventh avenue, today. Eichelroth has been ill and Mrs. Eichelroth fears that he may have become mentally unbalanced and that he has wandered away from home. The police are assisting in the search for the man. Eichelroth was 5 feet 11 inches, 155 pounds in weight, with gray hair and medium complexion.

ALLEGED "FENCE" DAVIS FAILS TO WIN RELEASE

Harris Davis, a second-hand dealer recently held to answer to the Superior Court on a charge of receiving stolen goods, failed in an attempt to secure his release today when Judge J. O. Moncur denied his habeas corpus writ. Davis was arrested on the accusation of George Baxter, an alleged burglar, who said that he had given his stolen articles to the former, who had in turn disposed of them for him for a commission.

Davis asked to be released on the ground that he could not be prosecuted on the testimony of an accomplice. After the denial of the writ, the prisoner was arraigned for trial, and the case continued to next Monday, when he will enter a plea. The writ may be taken to the State Appellate court by his attorneys, George Macdonough and J. J. McVey.

SAN PABLO IMPROVERS ARRANGING BIG FETE

The Central San Pablo Improvement Association is making every effort and sparing no expense to offer one of the best and greatest street fairs ever held in Oakland.

The following contestants have entered in the Queen Contest, which promises to be hotly fought: Miss Bobbie Barbour, Miss May Kearney, Miss Marie Hatzfeld, Miss Winifred Sherman and Miss Ruth Angell.

Drill contests by the Moose, Eagles, Woodmen, Foresters and other lodges will tend to enliven the occasion. The dates are October 18 to 24, the place Twenty-seventh street and San Pablo avenue.

The committee is L. M. Busich, president and chairman; W. Taylor, secretary, and J. Lawlor, treasurer.

LECTURE ON HISTORY.

Arthur I. Street, director of the American Institute of Current History, will deliver an illustrated lecture to which parents and friends of the school children are invited at the Franklin school, Ninth avenue and East Sixteenth street, tonight. The subject of the lecture will be "In Line With the Hour." It will be illustrated with stereopticon views. Timely events, places, men of all nations, cartoons and human interest incidents will be included in the pictures and talk.

CHIEF IS WITNESS.

VALLEJO, Oct. 8. — Chief of Police W. T. Stanford will leave for Los Angeles on the 18th to appear as a witness in the case of Joseph Bruce, charged with smuggling Chinese into the United States.

BIG MACHINE TO DRIVE AWAY FOG

Electric Ray Planned to Keep Shipping Channel Open.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—A giant electrical machine, flashing a real thunderbolt, with a current of 1,000,000 volts built by government scientists at the Exposition, is to be tried out in a few days in the hope that it will solve the problem of dispelling fog and clearing the atmosphere.

Though the huge machine has been built openly behind the Palace of Machinery, its real purpose has been kept quiet. Such information as has been allowed to go out hitherto has created the impression that it was being constructed merely to make an electrical display as a spectacle. Only technical experts knew that it represented a vast fog dissipating experiment, costing thousands of dollars and calculated, if successful, to be of great value to railways and shipping.

The device is an electrical transformer, the hugest ever built. It can take a current of 1000 kilowatts at 2300 volts and step it up to 1,000,000 volts. The discharge of this high potential is expected to produce a broad and continuous flash of lightning 100 feet long, with a crash of thunder and violent electrical disturbance in the atmosphere. The experts believe that this will be sufficient to clear up a heavy fog for some distance around the machine.

If this result is obtained, the government engineers say the device will be of great value to railroads and shipping.

THORITIES PUT END TO DANCE AT SAVOY

NDON, Oct. 8. — A staggering blow dealt last night to the festivities the gay element when the authorities ed dancing at the Savoy hotel. It there that the leaders of society and most prominent Americans, as well igh army and navy officers on leave diplomats, met nightly at supper and ed to the gay tunes of the American nestra.

ere youths who should be on the firing line one-stepped and fox-trotted late into the night, while notables from all parts of the world looked on. The crowd was the same night after night. It included, among others, the Duke of Orleans, on crutches, a mere wreck of the man who once hoped to be King of France; Signor Marconi, the wireless wizard, high officers of the French, Italian and Belgian armies, Indian princes, among them the Maharajah of Kapurthala, and leaders of the social and political world, who watched the crowd of merrymakers.

All other similar places had been closed soon after the outbreak of the war, the Savoy remaining the only lively spot in London.

THREE SAVED FROM DEATH IN FUMES

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—A volley of seven shots fired by excited Italians in the heart of the Latin quarter at 6:45 o'clock this morning led a squad of police to the wine vats at 5 Varennes street, where three men were rescued from a cellar filled with deadly fumes. One after another three employes of the little winery had descended into the dark basement, only to be overcome and rendered unconscious by the deadly gas which had formed in the air-tight, box-like cavern during the night. Those who were dragged to safety by the police were: L. Calamatora, 426 Green street; Louis Talo, 297 Green street, and Silvio Rasso, 30 Varennes street. All were resuscitated at the Harbor hospital and will recover.

Patrolmen John Dooling and John Cadden were the heroes in the work of rescue. They descended into the deadly pit, tied ropes around the unconscious men, and, aided by a score of willing hands above, dragged them to safety.

Italians, realizing the situation, fired the shots to attract the police.

Dr. Muller Honored With Pope's Present

WOMAN REMAINS TO FACE MEXICAN MOBS

Missionary Stays to Protect School; Speaks at Convention

While mobs of natives were going through the streets of Mexico City yelling "Death to the Americans," inflamed because of the landing of United States troops at Vera Cruz, only one of the hundreds of American and English women missionaries stuck at her post of duty to spread the gospel of God. This woman, who succored the needy and defied soldiers to enter her school, is Miss Laura Temple, in Oakland today as a delegate to the twenty-seventh annual convention of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society.

Following the installation of officers by Mrs. William Fraser McDowell, Miss Elizabeth Parkes spoke on the work accomplished in the Philippines. Preceding her were Miss Lulu Heacock, Mrs. Lucie F. Harrison, Mrs. E. P. Dennett and Miss Alice Johnston, all speaking on various phases of missionary work.

Mrs. Lucie F. Harrison, national secretary of children's work, delivered the principal address of the day, telling of the work that mothers and children alike can do to further carry the standards of God into the sections where religious conversion is needed.

This evening the delegates will attend a young people's supper which will be accompanied by missionary demonstrations.

It is hoped by the missionaries that Dr. Mary Stone, celebrated worker among the Chinese, will speak at this evening's meeting. Miss Stone and Mrs. Jennie Hughes, also a delegate, sustained injuries in an automobile collision near San Diego, Cal., a few days ago.

TELLS OF MEXICO.

Miss Laura Temple held her audience at close attention last evening when she told of conditions in Mexico. "Five years ago the word "Mexico" suggested a rare old country. Today it causes one to think of war, of suffering, of pillage and of destruction," she said. "Mexico City was indeed the Paris of the Western Hemisphere. The streets on which handsomely gowned women used to promenade are now occupied by ill clad, hungry soldiers, always in search of scraps of food. I, however, believe that out of the ruins there will arise a new Mexico.

"The greatest enemy of the Mexicans is their ignorance. Give them a chance to become educated and they learn rapidly. The people know nothing of modern sanitary methods or of modern ways of working. In the houses of thousands upon thousands of families there is no table, bed nor chair. They have a few bricks fixed in the floor for a fireplace. They cook everything in one big pot, and then the family, with the tortillas, made of dough, dip these into the pot and sop up or catch up whatever food is within. For beds they sleep on mats. For washing purposes they go to a stream. They are like children, needing guidance.

"When the head officials heard that Vera Cruz was to be invaded by our troops all the missionaries in Mexico City received word to proceed there at once. I saw the others depart, but the voice of God bade me remain. I was not molested. American teachers relieved me after the stress of that time was over. However, I received my last letter from there in July in which was written that the Mexicans are starving. I have been unable to hear since then.

"We must not judge the Mexican race by the pictures and stories we see and hear of a Mexican stabbing a man in the back. If a Mexican is a friend to a person he is a friend to the core."

PROTECTS SCHOOL PROPERTY.

Miss Temple twice protested and forbade Mexican troopers from taking over missionary school property. Her efforts were successful.

Mrs. W. F. Rice, missionary from the Argentine Republic, South America, stated that the people of that section are slowly but surely being enrolled under the religion as voiced by the missionaries, though many of them had adopted other religious faiths. Mrs. Rice advised her auditors of the great amount of importing done by Argentine Republic, she stating that each month previous to the war ten millions of dollars' worth of goods were brought from England and six millions of dollars' worth were purchased from Germany. "The United States surely will get a great deal of this trade now," said Mrs. Rice.

Wilson's Engagement Pleases Marchioness

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The Marquis of Aberdeen and his wife, who have been asked to come to this country as guests of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, were passengers on the steamer New York, which arrived yesterday. Both are ardent suffragists and they are going to lecture in this country.

"I think President Wilson is to be doubly congratulated," said the Marchioness, as she read the account in the papers of the President's engagement.

Boston Forts Repel "Hostile" Fleet Attack

By Associated Press.

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—Two attacks on the harbor fortifications by the "hostile" fleet in the maneuvers which began yesterday, were repelled, according to Lieutenant Colonel M. C. Haan, commanding the seven harbor forts. It was expected that another attempt to "reduce" the forts would be made today.

ROCKEFELLER DELIVERS SPEECH

By Associated Press.

DENVER, Oct. 8.—John D. Rockefeller Jr. today made his first public address in Colorado, when he was the guest of honor at the weekly luncheon of the Denver Chamber of Commerce. Speaking as a business man to an assemblage of business men, he discussed the problems of the state, particularly with regard to industrial questions.

After expressing satisfaction at having been given an opportunity to meet the business men of Denver, Mr. Rockefeller thanked the people of Colorado for their kindness and friendliness to him during his three weeks in the state. He said the friendly feeling of the state toward himself was due in a still larger measure to his father, John D. Rockefeller Sr., who had shown his interest in Colorado and his confidence in the future of the Rocky Mountain region by his large investments in the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company.

Mr. Rockefeller referred to what he called a misapprehension on the part of the public regarding the Rockefeller attitude toward organized labor. He read extracts from his own testimony before the federal commission on industrial relations, which he said proved that he believed in the right of labor to be organized. He spoke of his recently promulgated industrial plan as a further proof of his friendliness to the working class.

In concluding, he declared that there must never be another strike in the coal mining industry in Colorado, because when strikes occurred all parties were losers, including the public.

U. S. LIKELY TO RECOGNIZE CARRANZA

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Indications today, on the eve of the conference of the Pan-American diplomats are that the Carranza government in Mexico will receive early recognition from the United States. The only thing that can stand in the way of recognition, it is believed, would be some unseen development to complicate the situation. Recognition, if accorded, would be based upon statements to the United States government from Carranza authorities showing his military supremacy in Mexico and promises of protection to foreigners and their property and assurances of amnesty to political prisoners and of religious freedom to all. These statements and assurances are believed to have virtually convinced the administration that Carranza has met both the "material and moral capacity" required for the creation of a stable government. Announcement as to which of the revolutionary factions in Mexico should be recognized may be made by the Pan-American conference which meets tomorrow.

Steamer Mariposa Ashore, Asks Help

By Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—The steamship Mariposa, two days out of Seattle for Alaskan ports, is ashore at Bella Bella, Wash., on Queen Charlotte sound, with a crew of thirty, according to a message received here by the marine department of the Chamber of Commerce. Wireless calls for aid were sent out by the stranded vessel.

STRIKES IN FOG.

By Associated Press.

SEATTLE, Oct. 8.—The Alaska Steamship Company's freight and passenger steamship Mariposa, bound from Seattle for Alaskan ports, with seventy-nine passengers and a large freight cargo, is ashore at the Indian village of Bella Bella, B. C., north of Queen Charlotte sound. It is supposed she struck during fog. The captain has asked that a steamship be sent to take off his freight and this is taken by the owners to mean that the Mariposa is hard aground. Bella Bella is on the inside passage to Alaska and the water is calm. No fear is felt for the safety of the Mariposa. Arrangements have been made to send a relief boat. The passengers probably will be placed aboard another north-bound boat.

Grape Industry Is Saved by War

Sparkling Juice Used in Powder Making

The war of Europe has saved the grape industry of California.

And it has accomplished that not through any increase in the demand for wine, but through the consumption of American powder.

Wine now is used in the manufacture of powder.

Only it isn't wine when the powder manufacturers buy it, and it doesn't go into the mouths of the powder makers. It is distilled wine brandy and becomes an ingredient of the explosive itself.

In other words, California wine brandy, highly distilled, has taken the place of grain alcohol in the manufacture of powder, and millions of gallons of this grape brandy are being distilled in California this fall for the California and Canadian ammunition makers.

Buyers from these factories are visiting all the grape centers of the state, closing up contracts. The output of more than 100 independent wineries will be converted into ammunition instead of amber crystals for old bottles.

Woman's Body Is Found in Bathtub

By Associated Press.

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—The body of Mrs. Bowdoin B. Crowninshield, wife of the well-known yacht designer of Marblehead, was found today in a bath tub filled with hot water, in the Parker House. The cause of death, according to Medical Examiner George E. McGrath, was drowning. He expressed the opinion that it was accidental.

Mrs. Crowinshield registered at the hotel yesterday as "Mrs. Bowdoin." Crownshield said he was convinced that his wife's death was accidental.

Navy Advisory Board Elects at Meeting

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The naval board of advisors at its first business meeting elected the following officers: Chairman, Thomas A. Edison, Orange, N. J.; first vice-chairman, Dr. Peter Cooper, Hewitt, N. Y.; second vice-chairman, William L. Saunder, Plainfield, N. J.; secretary, Thomas Robins, Stamford, Conn.; assistant to the chairman, M. R. Hutchinson, Orange, N. J.

Only members of the board were present at the meeting although Secretary Daniels conferred with them for a short time. He would not disclose what suggestions he had made. Members of the board had planned to leave Washington for their homes this afternoon, but did not complete their work in time, returning to the navy of the department after luncheon with Secretary Daniels. No committees to deal with special subjects had been appointed when the recess was taken.

Silks—Chiffons Nets—Laces

In Tailored, Semi-Tailored and Fancy Models.

Tremendous Reductions

We are offering a really splendid assortment of high-grade waists at what are, in truth, GIVING-AWAY PRICES. The reasons for the reduction are the presence of broken lines, odds and ends, the somewhat mussed and soiled condition of some of the waists and finally because a few of the models are slightly passe. Even in these instances the materials are so highclass and desirable, the workmanship so good and the price so low, that that feature is overlooked.

Good Assortment in White, Colors and Black.

LOT NO. 1—Consists of thirty Waists in high-grade chiffons, messalines and taffetas. There are three different models, none of which were priced less than $2.95 and as high as $4.75 ..... 95c and $1.95

LOT NO. 2—Consists of some very fine Waists, both plain and semi-tailored in wash silks, silk crepes, taffetas and striped silks. Good desirable bargains. None were priced less than $3.95, and the rest were $5.75 and $6.75 ..... $2.45

LOT NO. 3—At the $3.65 price an exceptional group of fine Waists. Styles are in low neck, short sleeve and high neck, long sleeve. Semi-tailored and dress models. In taffetas, messalines, nets, chiffons and laces. In this offering there is nothing that was marked less than $5.75, and from there to $10.50 ..... $3.65

LOT NO. 4—Lovely materials and excellent workmanship. These are well-made and attractive Waists worth far more than the asking price. Here we have values from $7 to $16 ..... $4.85

EARL'S BEDTIME STORIES

Jimmy Wibblewobble and Uncle Wiggily

(By HOWARD R. GARIS.)

Copyright, 1915, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

"Come on, boys! That's the way to do it! Now kick it this way! Whoopde-doodle-de!"

Over in a field some animal boys—Sammie Littletail the rabbit chap, Johnnie and Billie Bushytail, the squirrels; Jimmie Wibblewobble, the duck, Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow, the puppies—were playing a game.

They had a big, round, yellow pumpkin scooped out hollow and filled with soft, silky cotton from the inside of a milkweed pod. This pumpkin they were kicking about, tossing to and fro, and shouting as they did so.

"My! What's all this about?" asked Uncle Wiggly Longears, the rabbit gentleman, as he came walking along through the wood by the field, limping on his red-white-and-blue striped barber pole rheumatism crutch that Nurse Jane had gnawed for him out of a cornstalk. "What are you playing, boys?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Football!" answered Jimmie, the duck chap. And then he blew a tin whistle he carried slung around his neck on a piece of ribbon grass.

"Playing football, eh?" asked the rabbit gentleman. "But why do you blow the whistle, Jimmie?"

"Why, it's to tell when they're to stop kicking, pulling, shoving and pushing," answered the little duck boy. "You see, we take turns with the pumpkin football, and when one side gets knocked down and stepped on and rolled over, then I blow the whistle to tell the other side to stop pushing—that it's enough."

"I see," said Uncle Wiggily. "Football is a sort of rough game, isn't it?"

"Oh, we like it!" said Sammie Littletail, the rabbit boy. "You see it's nice cool weather now and we don't mind getting warm at play."

"And it doesn't hurt us to fall down and get stepped on or rolled over," said Johnnie Bushytail, one of the squirrel boys, "because we have on our thick, winter suits of fur, and we can't feel any hard knocks through them."

"I see!" laughed the rabbit gentleman. Then he leaned his twinkpinkling nose—excuse me, I mean his pink, twinkling nose—on the top rail of the fence, and he watched the animal boys playing football, with the round, hollow, hollowed-out pumpkin, stuffed with soft, silky cotton from the inside of a milkweed plant pod.

"Well, I almost wish I were young again, so I could play," said Uncle Wiggily, as he walked on over the fields and through the woods. Pretty soon he sat down to rest not far from a little pond of water, and, after a while, the rabbit gentleman fell asleep.

All at once Uncle Wiggily was awakened by hearing a sad voice saying:

"Oh, dear! How hungry I am!"

Uncle Wiggily suddenly opened his eyes and there, on a log in front of him he saw Snappy, one of the nice mud turtle boys whom he knew.

"What's that—are you hungry, Snappy?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Yes," answered the mud turtle boy. "I am very hungry, and my mother has closed up our mud house and gone down town shopping to the five-and-six-cent store, so I can't get in to get anything to eat until she comes back."

"Perhaps I can find something for you," said Uncle Wiggily, and, looking in his pockets, surely enough, he found a piece of cherry pie, which he gave to Snappy.

"Oh, thank you, ever so much," slowly spoke the little mud turtle boy, as he ate the cherry pie. Then he crawled down in the pond, saying, before he left:

"If I can ever do you a favor, Uncle Wiggily, you or any of your friends, please let me know."

"I will," promised the rabbit gentleman. He was just going to sleep again, when, all at once he heard a splashing noise in the pond, and a quacking voice cried:

"I'll get it! I see where the football fell. It's in the water and I'll get it!"

Then the rabbit gentleman saw Jimmie, the duck boy, fly through the air and splash down in the pond, where was floatng the big, yellow pumpkin football.

"Here you go!" cried Jimmie, as he scooped the pumpkin up in his wing and gave it a kick with his yellow foot. Away sailed the football over the trees, and Uncle Wiggily could hear it fall with a thud in the distant lot where the animal boys were playing.

"My! That was a good kick of yours, Jimmie," said Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, was, pretter fair," answered the duck boy, sort of modest like and shy. "But it was a better kick when Munchy Trot, the pony boy, kicked the ball over here. He kicked it away from the far end of the field and it fell in the pond."

"And you got it out of the water," said Uncle Wiggily.

"Yes, I came after the ball because I can swim, and I'm not afraid of getting wet," answered the duck boy. "Well, now I guess I'll go back and blow the whistle to start the game again. They can't play if I don't blow the whistle."

Jimmie started to fly up from the pond, but all at once a sad look came over his face, and opening his yellow bill, Jimmie said:

"Oh, dear! I've lost the whistle! It slipped off my neck when I kicked the pumpkin football. Now it's gone forever."

"Oh, not forever," said Uncle Wiggily. "It's just down on the bottom of the pond. Put your head under water, as you do when you're hunting for duckweed, with snail sauce on, and poke around with your bill until you find the whistle."

"Oh, I can't!" quacked Jimmie. "The water is much too deep. My neck is not long enough to reach to the bottom of the pond."

"Perhaps not. Try and see," begged the rabbit gentleman.

"Oh, no," sadly said Jimmie. "It's no use trying. The whistle is gone and we can't pplay football again today."

"Couldn't you quack, instead of blowing a whistle?" Uncle Wiggily wanted to know.

"Oh, never!" said Jimmie. "I don't know what to do!"

"Well, just to please me," said Uncle Wiggily, "put your head under water and feel around with your bill. Maybe you will find the whistle."

"All right. I'll do it as a favor to you, but I know it's too deep for me to touch bottom," Jimmie said. He put his yellow bill under water, and a funny look came over his face—that is, it would have been funny if you could have seen it—but you couldn't because Jimmie's face was under water.

Then Jimmie raised up his head. In his bill he had the football whistle. He slipped it over his neck again by the piece of ribbon grass.

"Why, the water wasn't deep at all!" he cried. "I found the whistle first thing! The bottom is near the top."

"What did I tell you?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Never give up without trying at least once."

And then up out of the water came Snappy, the mud turtle boy.

"The whistle fell on my back as I was swimming along," he said. "That's why it wasn't stuck deep down in the mud, and that's why Jimmie found it so easily. I said I would do a friend of yours a favor if I could, Uncle Wiggily."

"And you did—thank you very much," the rabbit gentleman said. Then Jimmie thanked Snappy, and went back to blow the whistle for the football games. So everything was all right, and if the pussy kitten doesn't play tag with the ball of string, and get all tangled up, so she can't go to the moving pictures, I'll tell you next about Lulu Wibblewobble and Uncle Wiggily.

CAVEMAN SAID TO LIVE UP TO PART

Hits Neighbor With Bottle, Ties Wife to Bedpost, Are Charges.

SAN JOSE, Oct. 8.—Charles Bozelle, who shot up a San Francisco hospital a few months ago, while carrying away a pretty nurse in caveman fashion, has been jailed by the San Jose police pending investigation of an alleged attack on Mrs May McGregor, a neighbor living in an adjoining flat.

Mrs. McGregor declares that Bozelle lured her from her apartment on the pretext that her dog was acting queerly and then struck her down from behind with a beer bottle. She says that she feared for her life, when Bozelle demanded money, and begged that she be allowed to live for the sake of her little baby. She then seized an opportunity to flee from the place with her child.

Bozelle eloped with Miss Sadie Broadhurst from the San Francisco hospital and the couple were subsequently married in this city. Mrs. Bozelle is now ill at the home of her mother and the police declare that the young wife was tied to a bedpost and abused by her husband.

ANITA BALDWIN EXHIBIT IN SAN JOSE ATTRACTS

SAN JOSE, Oct. 8.—A feature exhibit by Mrs. Anita Baldwin of Pasadena is attracting a great deal of attention at the combination dog, poultry, game and pet stock show of the San Jose Kennel club and Santa Clara Valley Poultry association, which opened to the public last night. Mrs. Baldwin brought her show dogs, including White Knight, her $25,000 bulldog, in a specially equipped car. Her exhibit has been specially benched in one end of the Auditorium rink. Special lighting effects and decorative arrangements have been made at a heavy cost. The show closes Saturday night.

THUGS ROB GARAGE, ESCAPE IN AUTO

Police of Bay Cities Look for Pair Who Beat Man at Santa Clara.

SAN JOSE, Oct. 8.—The Sheriff's office has enlisted the aid of police throughout the bay cities in an effort to capture two men in an automobile who last night robbed a garage in Santa Clara after choking and beating Manuel Bettancourt, an employe. Traffic Officer Charles D. Reace, mounted on a motorcycle, pursued the robbers' automobile into San Mateo county before losing sight of it. He declares that it carried state license number 102330. Bettancourt was not seriously injured. The highwaymen got away with automobile sundries valued at $50.

KILLED IN ACCIDENT.

REDDING, Oct. 8.—Joseph Peck, a Shasta county pioneer, living in Kennet, was killed yesterday when a balky team he was driving at the Balakala mine backed off the grade. Peck was buried at the bottom of the pile beneath a load of household goods, and suffered injuries that proved fatal. Aged 60, he left a widow and a son in Kennet and a daughter in Point Richmond.

SEEK WATER SUPPLY.

MARTINEZ, Oct. 8.—The proposal to obtain a larger water supply for Martinez was indorsed yesterday by the local development board, which favors the plan to submit a $45,000 bond issue. The intention is to obtain this supply from the Port Costa Water Company. A committee has been named to confer with the city trustees on the project.

ANOTHER VICTORY

The Courts Have Spoken

Important to all Merchants

Three judges of the Federal Court sitting en banc at Portland, Oregon, have just decided that the law passed at the last session of the Legislature imposing a five per cent tax on the gross business of all merchants using trading stamps and coupons, and of trading stamp and coupon companies, doing business in Oregon, is unconstitutional.

The decision follows the case of Little et al. vs. Tanner, from the State of Washington, in which it was held to be legitimate for merchants to use premiums as a discount for cash trade and for the purpose of attracting and building up business.

President George B. Caldwell, of the Sperry & Hutchinson Co., and Hamilton Corporation, who is now making a visit to their many merchants and representatives on the Pacific Coast, states:

"The use of trading stamps and similar devices is neither more nor less than a legitimate system of advertising. As well might legislatures attempt to classify separately those who advertise in the columns of the daily papers or use electrical signs, bill boards or other devices and impose a tax upon them to the exclusion of others engaged in the same business who do not so advertise. The attempted classification is purely arbitrary and vicious class legislation and strictly a violation of the fourteenth amendment to the Federal Constitution.

"The Sperry & Hutchinson Co. is the oldest and largest premium house in the world. We employ expert trade analysts and give a service measured by actual redemptions of over 90% of our stamps issued. We employ publicity experts and annually spend several hundred thousands of dollars with newspapers and magazines. We do not invade their field nor do they ours. We cooperate with publishers to get results for our merchants and manufacturers. We invite the fullest publicity of our system and methods in the interest of fair play. The day is now past when competition is to be prevented by associational methods which are to the great disadvantage of individual members. Freedom of business gives every merchant and manufacturer the right to say whether or not he shall use premiums as a permanent business builder. To-day over 30,000 merchants of the United States are using our system successfully."

Copies of this Oregon and other decisions on the use of premiums may be had by calling upon any of our principal agents in San Francisco and Los Angeles, Cal.; Salt Lake City, Utah; Portland, Oregon; Seattle and Spokane, Wash.

DON'T ASK YOUR HUSBAND FOR MONEY FOR A FALL SUIT

Buy it tomorrow and surprise him! Women who are up on fashions know that it takes an Autumn Suit this time of year to look up to date. You really ought to get your new Suit before Sunday.

If you haven't the full price of a first-class suit on call, here's an idea! Perhaps your husband hasn't that much to spare, either.

But if you have a small amount of cash—say $10—why not give that as the "good faith" payment on one of the beautiful new Suits CHERRY'S have just received? The rest can be paid off in convenient INSTALLMENTS—weekly or monthly, as you please.

See what an easy way that is to get your new Suit and get it AT ONCE? No waiting, no fussing with tailors or dressmakers, no doubt about its being "just what you want," no misgivings about extravagance.

Have you ever noticed CHERRY'S store at 515 13th St.? They have another big store at 528 13th St., selling apparel for men. In San Francisco they have two stores—one at 1009 Market St. and the other at 2400 Mission St.—Advertisement.

QUIET WEDDING.

Mrs. Juliana Weidzel Schaub of Brooklyn, New York, and Rev. Edward C. Jannusch of Salem's German Methodist Episcopal Church in Oakland, were quietly married yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. August Hoffman in Forty-third avenue. Rev. M. J. Durbahn of Los Angeles was the officiating clergyman.

Society

Mrs. Anthony Hubbard and Miss Mabel Hubbard of Redlands, mother and sister of Mr. Herbert Hubbard, whose engagement to Miss Philena Wetmore was announced last week, are guests at the Palace in San Francisco, and between visits to the Exposition they are being entertained by Miss Wetmore's friends in Oakland. Miss Hubbard was a guest at Miss Wetmore's announcement luncheon the other day, and several of the younger set who met her have planned affairs in her honor. On Monday evening Miss Marian Fillius will give a theater party in San Francisco in honor of Miss Hubbard, entertaining ten guests, who will later enjoy the supper dance at the St. Francis.

Mr. Herbert Hubbard, who was at the Palace last week, has returned to Redlands.

WEDDING SOUVENIRS.

Miss Jean Oliver of San Francisco caught the bride's bouquet at the wedding of Miss Beverley Nason and Mr. Robert Power on Wednesday evening. The ring in the bride's cake was cut by Miss Oliver's sister, Mrs. Leo Merle, which was a mistake of the fates, who should have sent it to the "next bride." Miss Gladys Emmons cut the lucky coin in the wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Power have gone to the high Sierra for their honeymoon, and on their return will be at the Nason residence for a time until they are settled in their new home.

AT THE OAKLAND.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Bliss and Miss Elizabeth Bliss have returned from Lake Tahoe, where they spent the summer, and are at the Oakland for a few days until they reopen their home in Piedmont. They have been at the lake for the past five months and were prominet in the gayeties of the season at the Tavern. Miss Elizabeth Bliss was one of the tennis champions of the summer.

GUEST OF MISS PLAYTER.

Mrs. Edward Fraser McDowell of Chicago, who is the wife of Bishop McDowell and president of the National Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist church, is visiting Miss Charlotte Playter in Piedmont. Mrs. McDowell is an honored guest at the convention of state missionary societies being held at the First Methodist church in Oakland this week, and later will go to Los Angeles, where she will attend the national convention, to be held from October 28 to November 4. She is a very charming woman and is being much entertained informally during her stay.

MISS EVELYN O'BEAR OF CHICAGO, WHO IS VISITING RELATIVES IN PIEDMONT.

GUESTS OF MRS. WOODWORTH.

Members of the Army and Navy Club of Berkeley were guests this afternoon of Mrs. Selim Woodworth at her home in Berkeley. Among those who enjoyed the informal tea were Mrs. John T. Nance, Mrs. Charles Fremont Pond, Mrs. Frederick Vossler, Mrs. Edwin O. C. Ord, Mrs. Thomas Phelps, Mrs. Ora Perkins, Mrs. C. F. Woodruff, Mrs. Merrill Miller and others.

VISITING PAINTER HOME.

Mrs. George Dougherty (Pauline Painter) of San Jose is a guest at the Painter home in Alameda for a week. With her sister, Mrs. Philip Bliss, she posed in the Fashion Show last Saturday and made a pretty picture. This is Mrs. Dougherty's first visit home since her marriage early in the summer, and she is being entertained at a number of informal affairs.

FROM SANTA CRUZ.

Miss Dorothy Deming is visiting friends in San Francisco from her home in Santa Cruz, and was among guests at Miss Edith Goodfellow's luncheon at the Sequoyah Club on Wednesday. The Henry Seth Demings are planning to take a house in Oakland for the winter. Last season they occupied the Frank L. Brown residence in Vernon Heights, which the Frank Proctors have leased this year.

CAUGHT BRIDE'S BOUQUET.

Miss Helen Dimmick of San Francisco caught Mrs. Benjamin Cravens' bridal bouquet at the Du Val-Cravens wedding Wednesday evening. Miss Doris Badgeley found the coin in her share of bride's cake, but the ring was left unclaimed.

AT PARK GATE.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sharon (Hazel Ingels), who have been guests at the Ingels home, have taken an apartment at the Park Gate for the winter. They are planning to build a home in Piedmont next year.

TO GIVE DANCE.

Miss Gladys Van der Naillen has sent out cards for a dance to be given on Saturday evening, October 30, at the Twentieth Century Club. About 100 guests will be entertained, a number of them San Francisco friends of the hostess.

VISITOR FROM CHICAGO.

Miss Evelyn O'Bear of Chicago is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Herbert E. S. Fagen, at her home in Piedmont. The visitor will be entertained at many informal affairs during her stay of several weeks.

IN LOS ANGELES.

Miss Leila McKibben of Berkeley, whose engagement to Mr. Vernon Churchill was recently announced, is visiting friends in Los Angeles for several weeks. The wedding of the young couple will probably take place in the winter. Mr. Churchill recently came from his home in the south to engage in business in San Francisco.

CATHEDRAL WEDDING.

In St. Mary's Cathedral, San Francisco, Miss Charlotte Warnecke was married to Mr. Joseph P. Wohlfrom of Oakland Wednesday morning. Rev. Father Ramm read the marriage service and the ceremony was attended by relatives and intimate friends. The bride was given away by her sister, Mrs. D. E. Sandow of San Francisco. She was attended by Miss Emma Wohlfrom, sister of the groom, and Mr. Walter Warnecke was best man. The ushers were Messrs. Harry Sandow and Bud Sennon. Following the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast at the Hotel Richelieu. After the honeymon Mr. Wohlfrom, who is president of the Union Machine Works of this city, will bring his bride to Oakland to reside. He is a son of Mr. Joseph F. Wohlfrom of Oakland.

TEA DANCE AT ST. FRANCIS.

Many guests from this side of the bay will be present at the tea dance to be given tomorrow afternoon by the United Daughters of the Confederacy at the St. Francis. Many of the members are residents of Oakland and Berkeley and among the patronesses are Mrs. C. C. Clay, Mrs. William Creed, Mrs. Thomas Phelps, Mrs. Walter Mansfield and Mrs. Harvey Darneal. A delightful atmosphere of the South will pervade the affair at which Southern delicacies will be served at tea and the music will include old plantation melodies. Among well known women who are patronesses are Mrs. William Bailey Lamar, Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, Mrs. Seldon Wright, Mrs. Charles Weller, Mrs. James Potter Langhorne, Mrs. J. D. Peters, Mrs. A. W. Foster, Mrs. George Hellman and many others.

MISS TOWER ENGAGED.

Oakland society will be interested in news of the engagement of Miss Helen Tower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlemagne Tower of Philadelphia, to Mr. James H. R. Cromwell, son of Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury of Philadelphia. Miss Tower and her mother, with Miss Gertrude Tower, spent several weeks in California recently and were entertained by Mrs. Tower's old friends in Oakland and San Francisco. They were guests at the Hotel Oakland for a short time and among those who entertained them on this side of the bay was Mrs. Philip Bowles. Miss Tower is a niece of Mrs. Leroy Harvey of Berkeley and her father is remembered as the former ambassador to Russia and Germany.

Mr. Cromwell is a direct descendant of the English Cromwell, his father having been the late Oliver Cromwell of Washington. His mother, Mrs. Stotesbury, visited the Exposition in June with Mr. Stotesbury and a party of friends and they were much entertained in San Francisco and Burlingame.

TO DANCE AT THE FAIR.

The Oakland Assembly will give a special dance in the California Building at the Fair on the evening of November 13, which the members are anticipating with keen pleasure. The second dance of the season will be given at Ebell Club on the evening of November 6.

Old Settler Day to Attract Throng at Fair

On October 16, "Pioneer and Old Settler Day" at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, all California will pay tribute to the "men of '49." Those who came west between the years 1846 and 1860 will be the guests of honor. All sons and daughters of the pioneers and the Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West will be asked to assist at the celebration.

The Southern Pacific Company, as one of the state's pioneers, is offering every co-operation through its officers and other employes. From all points in California to San Francisco a special fare with a return limit of fifteen days will be offered over its lines, effective on October 15 and 16.

The arrangements for the day at the Exposition are in charge of the California Pioneers of Santa Clara county, it having been deemed especially fitting that the movement should start there, since San Jose was the first capital of the state.

What Is Geography? Ask Teacher of It

On Friday evening, in Room 105, Bacon hall, University of California, at 8 o'clock, the Bay Council of Geography Teachers will hold a meeting for the discussion of the question, "What Is Geography." The discussion will be introduced by Harold W. Fairbanks, Ph.D., a well-known author and geographer of Berkeley. Dr. Fairbanks will point out that the teachers of geography in the common schools and high schools do not have a comprehensive standard by which to decide what is properly geography, and what is not. He therefore will propose as a "measuring stick" a definition of the "new geography" by which the content of geography as taught in schools at the present time may be measured.

The Bay Council of Geography Teachers is organized for the purpose of promoting geographic education and better geography teaching. It has a large membership of grade and high school teachers. The meetings are open to the public.

WOMEN WHO ARE ALWAYS TIRED

May Find Help in This Letter.

Swan Creek, Mich.—"I cannot speak too highly of your medicine. When through neglect or overwork I get run down and my appetite is poor and I have that weak, languid, always tired feeling, I get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it builds me up, gives me strength, and restores me to perfect health again. It is truly a great blessing to women, and I cannot speak too highly of it. I take pleasure in recommending it to others."—Mrs. ANNIE CAMERON, R.F.D., No. 1, Swan Creek, Michigan.

Another Sufferer Relieved.

Hebron, Me.—"Before taking your remedies I was all run down, discouraged and had female weakness. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sanative Wash, and find today that I am an entirely new woman, ready and willing to do my housework now, where before taking your medicine it was a dread. I try to impress upon the minds of all ailing women I meet the benefits they can derive from your medicines."—Mrs. CHARLES ROWE, Kennebago, Maine.

RED SOX HOLD BIG ADVANTAGE IN THE OUTFIELD

Comparison of Strength in the Gardens Favors American Club.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. — The outfields of the Red Sox and the Phillies are expected to play roles of unusual importance in the coming world's series between the Boston Americans and the Philadelphia Nationals. No other department of the rival teams can show the collection of stars that will be found among the eight players who are available for places in the outer gardens. Mention need only be made of Tris Speaker and Harry Hooper for the Carrigan forces and Cactus Gavvy Cravath, Pat Moran's home run slugger, in order to establish the high standard of these two outfields.

As to which is the stronger in all round offensive and defensive play there is much argument but such advantage as may exist is generally conceded to the Red Sox. Each club has a regular fielding trio and one utility player, the lineup being as follows: Boston—Hooper, right-field; Speaker, centerfield; Lewis, left-field and Henriksen, utility fielder. Philadelphia—Cravath, rightfield, Passeau, centerfield; Whitted, leftfield and Becker, utility fielder.

Eliminating the two utility fielders and considering the outfield as units, the unofficial averages for the season show that Boston has a twenty point advantage in batting strength while the Philadelphia trio is five points stronger in fielding. The Red Sox combination is also shown to be faster on the paths since it is credited with having stolen fifty-four bases to the Phillies' forty-three. In extra base hits the winners of the American league pennant outclass the senior league flag bearers in ability to drive out two and three base hits but fall behind the Phillies in home runs due in great part to the terrific slugging of Cravath on his home grounds.

Considered individually the outstanding strength of the Red Sox outfield is made more apparent. In rightfield, Hooper will be opposed by Cravath and in the records the former has the advantage of stolen bases, sacrifice hits and fielding while the Phillies' player outshines the Red Sox fielder as a batter.

Who's Who in Red Sox Lineup

MANAGER.

William Carrigan, born in Lewiston, Me., 33 years ago, only playing manager. Still good catcher.

CATCHERS.

Forrest Cady, first string catcher. Born at Bishop, Ill., 24 years of age, tallest man on club, outranked only by Schalk in American league.

Chester D. Thomas, born in Sharon, Kansas, 26 years ago. Throws right, bats left, played in three Coast league clubs. Joined Sox in 1914.

PITCHERS.

Hubert (Dutch) Leonard, born in Fresno, Cal., 24 years of age, trained at St. Mary's College, this city, rates as star southpaw.

Carl Mays, born in Portland, Ore., 23 years old, newest member of the Red Sox. Came from Providence club, was in Northwest.

Sylvanus (Vean) Gregg, born at Ashland, Wash., in 1887, was with Spokane 1909, purchased by Cleveland, sold to Boston this year, has had lame arm.

Ray Collins, age 24, born in Vermont, college pitching phenom.

George (Babe) Ruth, born in Baltimore, age 21, sold to Sox with Shore for $30,000. Southpaw and hits same way.

George Foster, born in Bokoshe, Okl., 25 years old, right hander, joined Sox in 1913.

Joseph Wood, born in Kansas City, Mo., age 25, purchased by the Sox from Kansas City in 1908, right hand pitcher and batter.

INFIELDERS.

Richard J. ("Dick") Hoblitzel, first baseman, born in Parkersville, West Va., age 26, purchased by Cincy Reds from Wheeling in 1908 and sold by the Reds to Boston last year. Bats and throws left handed.

"Del" Gainor, sub first sacker, came to Boston from Detroit, who purchased him from the Fort Wayne club in 1910. Broke his wrist in 1912 and was out of the game so much that he was sold to the Sox. Throws and bats right handed.

John J. Barry was born in Meridian, Conn., age 28, former great shortstop for Athletics, now playing at second base. Throws and bats right handed.

Lawrence ("Larry") Gardner, third baseman; born in Enosburg Falls, Vt.; age 29; came to Red Sox in 1908 from Lynn. He bats left-handed and throws right-handed.

Charles ("Heinie") Wagner, utility infielder of Red Sox; born in New York; age 34; tried out with Giants as shortstop in 1901, inexperienced; released to Columbus. Later purchased by the Sox from Newark club in 1906. Injury has set him back this year. Bats and throws right-handed.

Everett Scott, shortstop; born in Bluffton, Ind.; age 22. Signed by Boston in 1913; sent to St. Paul for seasoning, and was recalled last year. Bats and throws right-handed.

Harold C. Janvrin, utility infielder; born in Boston; age 23; joined Sox in 1913; farmed to Jersey City, and was recalled in 1913. Bats and throws right-handed.

OUTFIELDERS.

Tristian ("Tris") Speaker, born in Hubbard City, Tex.; age 26. Bats and throws left-handed; ranked as greatest outfielder next to Ty Cob. Came to Sox in 1908.

George ("Duffy") Lewis; born in San Francisco; age 27; one of the best throwing outfielders in game; started baseball career with Alameda in 1906, and graduated to majors from Oakland club in 1910. Bats and throws right handed.

Harry B. Hooper; born in Santa Clara, Cal.; age 27; started as pitcher. Became Sox regular in 1909. Educated at St. Mary's College.

Olaf Hendrickson, utility outfielder. Bats and throws right-handed; born in Clinton, Mass.; age 25

BRAVES' FIELD IS NO FRIEND TO HOME-RUN FIENDS

Far Distant Fences Will Be an Advantage to the Red Sox.

NEW YORK, October 8.—Twelve months ago when the Boston Nationals defeated the Philadelphia Athletics for the world's title of baseball champions, all the games were played on American league grounds and this year the contending teams will meet in National League parks. An exchange of courtesies between Presidents Gaffney and Lannin of the rival Boston clubs made possible an additional seating capacity of the games last year. In return for the kindness of President Lannin last season, President Gaffney has placed Braves Field at the disposal of the American League pennant winners for the coming series thereby affording accommodations for several thousand additional spectators.

The new home of the Boston Nationals, where at least half of this year's battles will be staged, will seat possibly a few hundred in excess of 40,000 persons. At first an erroneous impression prevailed that Braves Field after the erection of temporary stands would accommodate over 52,000 spectators. In fact a semi-official statement was made to that effect.

Since President Lannin accepted the offer of President Gaffney, Red Sox officials have been busily engaged checking up the seating capacity of the National League grounds, and they found the first reports to be considerably in excess of the actual figures reached after a thorough inspection of the grand and other stands, and bleachers. It has also transpired that a municipal ordinance exists which prohibits the erection of temporary structures and as the time is too short in which to build permanent stands on the grounds, a liberal estimate of the park's capacity places it about 42,000. This, however, will be far in excess of the possibilities of Fenway Park, where 34,520 persons, the largest attendance ever registered at a baseball game in Boston witnessed one of the games between the Braves and Athletics last October.

The playing field extends 385, 500 and 520 feet respectively from the home plate to left, center and right fields. Ranging over the broad reaches of Braves Field, the fences in which are from 385 to 520 feet beyond the home plate, the fleet Boston fielders will have ample room for their great speed.

Another asset to the Red Sox in their home games will be these great distances to the fences on Braves' Field which, unlike the shorter boundaries of the Philadelphia park, offer no easy mark to home run drives on flights within the reach of a fast fielder. Much of Philadelphia's offensive strength will be robbed by this fact also, Red Sox supporters believe.

National League Park, the home of the Phillies for many years, is one of the smallest grounds in either the National or American leagues. Its grand stand, which is of the double deck cantilever type, was the first modern structure of the kind in the United States. Built of brick and steel it was the finest baseball property in the country when constructed but is out-of-date as compared with the greater structures put up in the last few years. With additional seats, temporarily built for the coming series, the seating capacity of the grounds will not be more than 20,000.

Probably more than two games of the series may be played in Philadelphia and the park with its short fences will certainly suit the National League hitters. Three of these, Cravath, Luderus and Becker, the pinch batter, are liable to hit one out of the enclosure for a home run off any of the visiting Red Sox pitchers. When great batsmen are up the mound runs generally are few and far between and a home run might win a game particularly if Alexander should be pitching for the side accredited with the circuit clout.

Pat Moran Owes His Rise to Ball of Yarn

Textile workers of Fitchburg, Mass., have unearthed an old ball of yarn, battered, ragged and torn in so many places it is almost unrecognizable. They are having this relic of a score of years ago gilded with eighteen carat gold. For a native son of Fitchburg has achieved greatness, and this ball of yarn, say Fitchburgers, started the native son on his journey to fame.

The hero of Fitchburg is Patrick J. Moran. There have been other heroes of Fitchburg, governors, senators and the like, but none like Patrick J., who has led the Philadelphia National league club out of the ashes of 36 years of buried hopes into the light of 1915 laurels. Fitchburg is justly proud of Patrick J., and therefore the ball of yarn, which will soon be a golden reminder of their esteem.

The sagacious, stern, serious minded, refreshingly modest, wonderfully modern commander of the Phillies may not remember the ball of yarn which he tossed about while still in his teens, but undoubtedly this ragged and torn plaything paved the way for the development of his baseball acumen, which has placed him to the fore as a leader of men. None will dispute that Moran has made his mark among rough and ready men, nor that his sauve, diplomatic manner has played a great part in the triumph of the Phillies. At least Fitchburg is as one in this conclusion.

Moran has always been a leader. It was he who made the ball of yarn which first interested the youngsters of Fitchburg. It was he who organized the first "kid" nine of the same town, and it was he who collected nickels to substitute a horsehide covered, regulation ball for the yarn plaything.

From the beginning Moran had a hankering for a catching job. He wisely figured he had better control of the situation if he were in the pivotal position. He played many positions in his long diamond career, but catching was his favorite, and it was as a catcher he ended his playing days.

WITH BOSTON IN 1900.

His first major league assignment was with Boston in 1900, he having been purchased from Montreal of the Eastern league. For five years he was one of the mainstays behind the bat for the Braves and then was transferred to the Cubs. There he was forced to play second fiddle, first to "Johnny" Kling and then to "Jimmy" Archer. That is, he did not get a chance to catch as many games as his ambitious manner demanded, but he did succeed in becoming a lieutenant to Frank Chance. Probably Moran learned more about the inside workings of baseball while with the Cubs than anywhere else. There he was given charge of the young pitchers, and it was Moran who developed the stars of the Cub mound staff.

He came to the Phillies in 1910 and Charles Dooin, then manager of the Phillies, probably assigned Moran to coaching duties. Dooin being sagacious and seeing that Moran had an uncanny ability in conditioning pitchers. Last winter Dooin was allowed to drift away from the Phillies and Moran was appointed manager by William F. Baker, president of the club. Baker was also sagacious, judging by the manner in which Moran took a jumbled up lot of castoffs and made them pennant winners.

The most outstanding characteristic of Moran is his executive ability. He never guesses what to do, but knows what to do and does it. He is in rigid command of every player on the field and bench as well, and his men obey him, not because of the force of his voice, nor his pugnacity, for he neither yells nor does he resort to fisticuffs, but because his serious-mindedness and his stern, businesslike orders.

One of his players said recently that taking orders from Moran was like keeping in condition. One could allow himself to get out of shape, but would suffer by it. And one could overlook an order from Moran without personal violence, but in the end he who was so incautious suffered.

Moran's inherent modesty makes him most likeable. He seldom smiles, not because he is a serious nature and he considers his job a most serious affair. He is quiet and at times almost speechless. He never "rides" his players for a mistake but questions them about the mistake and explains so there need be no further mistakes.

He has the faculty of being mentally alert at most critical moments. Many times a game has been won by the Phillies because Moran has intuitively or learnedly grasped the situation, seen a weakness of the opposition and driven toward that weakness with all the strength of his forces. He sees plays with uncanny judgment, and his men have learned it were better to tell "Pat" about it than risk their own judgment.

Moran has the never-give-up spirit that [illegible] He never knows when to quit. He never loses heart. He always figures there is a way to win and that he must win whatever the way. He is studious and arises to his convictions with spontaneity. He conquers with his personal will.

There still are many arguments that managers do not make ball teams and that players make managers, but it must be granted that "Pat" Moran has proven the ability to blend twenty-one players of questionable skill into a pennant winning aggregation. It was Moran who guided these men, some of talent, others of mediocre ability, into the ways of championship gaining. And not a man in Philadelphia nor Fitchburg but believes that to Moran all credit is due.

Just what Moran will do in the series with the Red Sox is yet to be seen. Whether or not he will be able to inject that never beaten spirit into his men for the short series remains a question. But Fitchburg and Philadelphia are behind Moran to a man, willing to gamble money, marbles or chalk that if it be a question of leadership, generalship or captaincy Moran will win easily.

BASE BALL

A Book of 600 Pages

WRITTEN BY A. G. SPALDING, who was conceded, always, everywhere and by everybody, to have had the best equipment of any writer to treat the subject that forms the text of this remarkable volume, viz., the story of the origin, development and evolution of Base Ball, the national game of our country.

The book is a veritable repository of information concerning players, clubs and personalities connected with the game and its early days, and is written in a most interesting style, interspersed with enlivening anecdotes and accounts of events that have not heretofore been published.

It is profusely illustrated with over 100 full-page engravings, and has sixteen forceful cartoons by Homer C. Davenport.

A book to which every boy and man should have access.

SEALS TIGHTEN GRIP ON THE PENNANT, THOUGH LOS ANGELES WIN TWICE

LEAVITT DENIES EVERYTHING AND IS FEELING WELL

Will Keep Club, Elliott, and Probably Mons. Franz. Hosp.

LOS ANGELES, Oct 8.—Frank Leavitt, president of the Oakland club, accompanied the athletes south and will be here for the better part of the week.

Leavitt gave out a negative interview. That is, he partly or wholly denied a lot of reports that have been floating around regarding the Oakland club and its future fate. Having begun denying these things in Portland and denied them all the way down the coast, he was in pretty good condition.

The people along the line heard that Leavitt was coming, and when the train stopped to take on water he could be compelled to get out on the rear platform and tell the citizens what he didn't intend to do.

"It is not true that I have decided to sell the Oakland club," said Mr. Leavitt without referring to his notes. "Anything that I have except my family is for sale, if I am offered enough. I have no intention of selling, but it might not be safe for anybody to offer me a fancy price. In reality, I'm hardly started. Frankly, I would like to remain in the game until I win a pennant.

"It is equally true that Del Howard has ever been considered as manager of the Oaks. During the past two years everybody, from Chance to McGraw has been suggested, but never has Howard's name been mentioned. I have not seen him since he quit the Seals, and it was my understanding that he had retired from baseball for good.

"Regarding the management of the club for next season, I myself cannot say who the man will be. As far as I know now, Elliott will be the man. He encountered a lot of tough luck, but seems to have the club going good now. In fact, it is doubtful whether anyone could do better than he is. Of course, there may be a change, but none is contemplated or definitely outlined."

Leavitt says that Hosp's work has been of such a high order than Franz probably will have first call on the job next season.

Couch Shuts Out White's Tigers, 5-0

Johnnie Couch tamed the Tigers here yesterday, shutting them out, 5 to 0, and bringing balm to the injured feelings of H. Wolverton, Esq. The crubby young right-hander appears to have conquered his tendency to wildness, and he showed a nice change of pace, a puzzling curve, and great speed. Of the three hits secured off his delivery, two were safe blows to the outfield and the third was a grounder to Corhan when the Seal outfielder heaved low to Gus. Wilson appeared to have the throw tied anyway so the scorer gave him credit for a hit. The Seals supported their twirler in gallant fashion, Corhan making a marvelous catch of a line drive by Bayless in the first inning and repeating in the sixth off the same player.

The Seals made their runs in the first and seventh innings. Cheeh opened the game by hitting Fitzgerald in the slats, following which Schaller and Autrey singled, Bodie sacrificed and Downs and Jones singled, accounting for three runs. Corhan hit into a double play to close the inning.

In the seventh Corhan scored on a clout to center by Johnny Couch, and Fitzgerald scored on a double by Schaller. The score:

QUESTION BOX

To the Sporting Editor—(1) Runner on third; batter hits foul. Catcher gets the ball and returns it to the pitcher. Pitcher touches ball but does not step it. Runner comes home before he can be caught. Should he go back to third or is he safe? (2) Runner on third; batter hits foul. Ball is thrown to third baseman by catcher, who catches runner off base. Is runner out? (3) Please give me the number of players injured during the last three years in both American and Rugby football.

INQUISITIVE.

(1) Goes back. (2) No. (3) No records available.

QUAIL AND DUCK ARE REPORTED TO BE VERY PLENTIFUL

Good News for Sportsmen Is Contained in State Game Reports.

Mountain and valley quail were never more plentiful than this year in California, according to the State fish and Game commission, the estimate being based on reports sent to headquarters from the field men of the commission. The same applies to ducks, and the sportsmen this season will be afforded all the game they can use.

Between Dutch Flat and the Nevada state line quail are reported in unusual numbers, and it is only a matter of a short time to bag the limit. Tourists, in driving along the highways, report quail in large numbers, and in the mountains they are as plentiful as they are in the valleys.

The large numbers of quail are attributed to the fact that the eggs this year were more fertile than in the past several years, and as a result more of them hatched, according to the fish and game commission, for several years past the eggs have not been fertile and although quails lay between 18 and 25 eggs, they have been hatching only a small portion of them.

Ducks, as a rule, are always plentiful in the State, but the year promises to be an exception in that they will be more numerous than in the past few years.

The season for valley and desert quail will open on October 15 and close on December 31. For mountain quail or grouse the season opened on September 1 and will close on November 30, in districts 1 and 23, which include all the territory from the Oregon line down to the Eastern California boundary to the southern boundaries of Inyo and Kern counties, the western boundary of the district taking in portions of Fresno, Merced and Stanislaus counties, all of San Joaquin and Sacramento counties, up the western border of Sutter and Butte counties, and across to the coast on the southern boundary line of Tehama, Trinity and Humboldt counties.

In districts 2, 3 and 4 the season for mountain quail or grouse opens on October 15 and closes December 31. These districts include practically all the territory not included in districts 1 and 23.

Angels Shut Out Oaks for 18 Rounds

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 8. — Los Angeles shut out Oakland in both of yesterday's games, taking the first 4 to 0, and the second 2 to 0. In the initial contest the Angels' first run came in the third on two singles and a steal, their other three were scored in the fourth when they landed on Prough for four hits. Four singles netted the Angels but one run in the third inning of the second battle. "Slim" Love allowed the Oaks only four well scattered hits. Scores:

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE.

There seems to be some dispute in the Commercial League concerning the standing of the teams. Manager Hedding of the Southern Pacific team claims that he is in the lead by one game, while Manager Woodward claims that the teams are tied. The dispute arises over the game played about two weeks ago. The third game of the series will be played tomorrow on the Grove street grounds, the first ending in a dispute, while the second was a 10 to 10 tie.

The lineups for tomorrow's game will be:

Feline Beauties Grooming for Big Show at P. P. I. E.

DON GIOVANNI, UNDEFEATED BLUE-EYED WHITE MALE, PROPERTY OF MRS. J. L. REUNER, McCLOUD, CAL., ENTERED IN PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION SHOW.

Cats of high degree, cats of every breed, cats of all nations—cats, lots of them, and carefully picked by cat experts, will gather at the exposition in San Francisco for the great international cat show that will be held from November 29 to December 1. The committees of cat lovers having the details in charge are working actively, under the general supervision of D. O. Lively, chief of the exposition department of live stock, in the preparation for the show, which, it is promised, will be the greatest cat show ever held in America. Some wonderful specimens of feline beauty and intelligence have already been assured and the number of them is increasing daily.

In addition to cash prizes offered by the exposition, many valuable trophies have been offered for competition at the show by breeders and fanciers' associations and by individuals. The exposition itself offers a trophy for the cat club winning the largest number of prizes, and $10 to the cat coming from the longest distance. The Seattle Cat club offers a medal for the best long-haired male kitten. Other prizes are the Rackham challenge cup, valued at $25; a silver cup for the largest exhibit by a member of the California Cat club of Oakland; a $10 trophy for the best long-haired blue-eyed white shown by a member of the California Cat club of Oakland; the Cat Fanciers' association solid gold medal for the best cat in the show; the Woodverge solid silver cup for the best male in the show, the bungalow cup for the best female and the Argent cup for the best long-haired kirten; eleven cups from the Pacific Cat club for best cats in various classes. Other trophies are offered for best Persian, best golden-eyed white, best shaded silver, male bred on Pacific coast and best direct descendent of Ch Silver King.

Entries for the show will close November 10.

POWER CO. WINS, 11 TO 1.

The Great Western Power Company easily defeated the newly-organized Houts & Ramage club at Melrose. McCreery, for the Power boys, was invincible in the pinches and only allowed four hits, while Remmer was hit freely. Codington, Ely and Crothwaite hitting the ball hard, the former getting one of the longest home runs ever made on the grounds, while Crosthwaite got a long triple. The Croll brothers played brilliant ball for the winners, and Jones and Drolette starred for the losers. The score:

LONG STRING BROKEN.

After pitching sixteen straight games in big league style, Chase, Redwood's star twirler, had an off day and after nine runs had been scored off him in four innings had to be relieved by Golde who allowed but one run during his service. Too many walks caused Chase's downfall.

The visitors secured the same number of hits as Redwood but walks mixed in helped them. Botto played good ball in center for the losers as did Zaneck on second. The Barney's pulled off two classy plays besides making several spectacular catches that rooned the locals of what appeared to be sure hits. The score.

WONDERFUL BOY DIVER TO HELP BENEFIT 'SPLASH'

Paul Lyle, Olympic Club Protege, to Aid West Oakland Party.

Paul Lyle, the wonderful eight-year-old high diver, and his juvenile teammates of the Olympic club, will participate in the benefit to be tendered the West Oakland Home next Friday night at the New Piedmont baths. Young Lyle is really one of the aquatic prodigies of the Pacific coast. He is an accomplished little plunger and boasts of a repertoire of dives that many older divers cannot make. The most spectacular of his plunges is a "one and a half" somersault from the top platform. His other dives are the back somersault, the jack knife, the swan dive and the Kanaka dive.

His partners of aquatic fame, Dick Julian, Bob Shaw and Danny Sloss, all under the 90-pound limit, will swim in a series of boy's races. All of these lads are comers and they improve with every competition.

Water polo fans will be on hand Holkamp, the local boy who looks like a classy youngster.

The polo match between the Olympic club and the Piedmont Athletic club is assured, for the game falls on the night that the two teams are matched in the California Water Polo league schedule. Jim Resleure, who leads the San Francisco seven, has his men in fine shape for the meeting, while Dave Duncan and Ben Singer, the local polo leaders, are ready for a hard game.

AL. LIPPE DENOUNCES "SNOWY" BAKER

Al Lippe, manager for Jeff Smith, is here from Australia with a bitter denunciation of "Snowy" Baker and the latter's treatment of American boxers. Lippe urges boxers who contemplate a trip to Australia to first secure a deposit on this side sufficient to guarantee their trip home. Jeff Smith's lawsuit against Baker is still pending in the Australian courts.

According to Lippe, "Snowy's" brother, Arald, is referee, and Snowy controls most of the newspapers as well as Stadium Limited. With all that Lippe charges that Baker is a figurehead and that the shareholders of the Stadium Company, headed by Attorney Drew, really run the monopoly and give Baker his orders.

"Dummy boxing autocrat," is the way Lippe refers to the famous Australian.

Red Watson, who filled Billy Kramer's place against Kay, was deliberately robbed of his fight. Kay did nothing but run away, and when caught in his corner and unable to escape Watson could do nothing owing to his smothering crouch, but pepper away at his arms. When he attempted the rabbit-killing punch the crowd simply hooted, as if demanding his disqualification. Billy Murray fought twenty rounds against D'Arcy and did what McGoorty failed to do.

CLEVER JOHNNIE AURROSEZ TO BOX ON THIS SIDE

Dashing Featherweight of San Francisco Meets Willie Byrne.

Matchmaker Jack Murphy of the Wheelmen's club announced today that he had succeeded in landing for the next Wheelmen show Johnny Aurrosez, the wonderful Spanish featherweight, who has set San Francisco fans by the ears with his sensational work. Aurrosez is said to have made a monkey out of Nunes, though the latter outweighed him by at least ten pounds. Anyone who can show up Johnny Nunes is entitled to the profound admiration of Oakland fans, for Nunes is regarded here as the best bet among the lightweights outside of Pete Tavas. Aurrosez will meet Willie Byrne, and Willie's well known gameness will undoubtedly give the visitor an opportunity of showing all his ability.

Aurrosez has whipped everything handed to him, regardless of weight.

Frankie Denny and Rudy Nelson meet in a return engagement as the star special event, while Kid Smiley and Pete Francis hook up in another feature bout. The preliminaries include Kid Taylor vs. Jimmie West, Joe Miller vs. Kid Grant, Willie Harris vs. Bull Young, Kid Real vs. Kid Peters, and W. Johnston vs. Jay Nunes.

FOOTBALL

The training table for the University of California football team will start Wednesday, October 20, according to an announcement made yesterday by Graduate Manager Stroud. Offers for the use of the fraternity houses will be submitted to Stiner an inspection of each of the houses Coach Schaeffer, Captain Canfield and Graduate Manager Stroud the place will be chosen.

The announcement of the start of training signalizes the rapid approach of the climax of the 1915 season. At the present time the season is half over, the first practice having been held on August 23 and the last game scheduled for November 13, the big game coming on November 6. But five contests have been played so far this season, the varsity taking four out of five and being defeated once by the Oakland Originals.

NEW YORK BOUT POSTPONED.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The Willie Ritchie-Johnny Dundee match, booked for last night, was postponed a week, due to the fact that no license has been issued to the club by the new boxing commission.

ALAMEDA RECRUITING OFFICE.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 8.—A recruiting office, in charge of Corporal Burgess of the United States army, has been opened in Armory hall, this city. This is the first time that such a place has been established in Alameda.

MANY KINDS OF RHEUMATISM; ONE SURE MODE OF TREATMENT

Authorities Say Don't Use Liniments. Treat It Through the Blood. You Can't Rub It Out!

Whether your trouble is Sciatica, Lumbago or the dreaded Articular Rheumatism, the answer is the same. You must treat it through the blood. That is the only way to rid the system of uric acid, purify the blood and revitalize the nerves. If the blood is freed from impurities, Rheumatism must go. This in short is the exact knowledge gained by the research laboratories of the S. S. S. Co., in Atlanta. These tests have been made for fifty years. They know what Rheumatism is. They know that S. S. S., the remarkable blood tonic, which they originated, will relieve you of Rheumatism. Take S. S. S. today. The complete recovery of thousands of sufferers by the use of S. S. S. is positive proof that you can be relieved. S. S. S. is a blood tonic—a purifier that restores the blood, revitalizes it, cleanses it, makes it pure as it was before it became poisoned with impurities. S. S. S. gives it strength to drive out these impurities—the uric acid and organic poison and with it the Rheumatism. Get S. S. S. at your druggist's. If you need special advice, write to S. S. S. Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Advertisement.

ELEY GOSSIP of STUDENTS AND RESIDENTS IN UNIVERSITY TOWN AND SOCIAL & PERSONAL HAPPENINGS of DAY in the ISLAND CITY ALAMEDA

CO-EDS AS BELL HOPS WILL FORM CHORUS OF U. C. SHOW

"FRONT" AND "PAGE" ARE THE VOCABULARY OF THIS BELLHOP CHORUS IN COLLEGE CLUB'S OPERA.

BERKELEY, Oct. 8.—Broadway never saw more mechanical genius lavished upon a musical comedy than is to characterize the production of "Keeping It Dark" by the Treble Clef Society of the University October 14, at the Oakland municipal auditorium. What is more, since the university claims premier laurels for the beauty of its feminine contingent, no Broadway show could ever boast a more effective chorus.

On this occasion, among all recent college shows, special effort at effectiveness of this same coterie of dainty misses has been taken. In the unusual garb of bell hops at a summer resort hotel they are expected to flash upon the audience's eye with surprising impressions.

"Lucy, page Mr. Jones in the hall! Front, Mamie, ice water to No. 184! Jennie, show this gentleman to the news stand!"

These are some of the unusual expressions that will be hear during the progress of the play. Not really in mascu-line attire but in something at least approximating it will the group of college maids in the bellhop chorus appear in their scenes. Several other pretty choruses have also been arranged by Theodore Haley, author of the comedy and writer of the accompanying music.

With the production but a week off, Coach George De Long and Music Director Paul Steindorff are working nightly rounding the cast into shape. There has already been a large advance seat sale at the usual places.

PAJAMA-GARBED ROYSTERERS GAY

Rally Brings Thousands of College Men in Nighties to Greek Theater.

BERKELEY, Oct. 8 — Three thousand men students of the University of California, fantastically garbed in pajamas, night gowns and loose flowing costumes, assembled in the Greek Theater last night for the annual Pajamarino Rally. These students occupied the lower part of the open air coliseum and tthe seating section was filled by some five thousand outsiders to witness the affair.

At a given signal the classes filed in, freshman, sophomore, junior and senior, marching around a gigantic bonfire and seating themselves in a semi-circle below the stage. Class yells followed by concentrated rooting were given and next speeches by Ted Haley, Leslie Brigham, Fred Ahearn, Cliff Canfield and J. H. Hildebrand were heard.

Each class in order, from freshman to senior, then took a turn at entertaining the vast assemblage and music, pantomime, burlesque and organized display featured the evening. Following the senior stunts the classes serpentined to Harmon Gymnasium, where the organized rally broke up. The students then gathered in a body at Bancroft and Telegraph avenues and for a time stopped all traffic, including street cars and automobiles by practical jokes and pranks. It was necessary for the police patrol to visit the scene in order to put a stop to the enthusiasm shown by the pajama clad men students. No arrests were made and with the aid of the senior students the underclassmen were disbanded without serious trouble.

PEACE DELEGATES TO GATHER AT UNIVERSITY

BERKELEY, Oct. 8. — Delegates to the First International Peace Congress will meet next Sunday in the Greek theater at the University of California. This will open the session of that body and the remainder of the week will be taken up with meetings in San Francisco and at the Exposition.

Addresses of welcome are to be given by Governor Hiram Johnson and Mayor Irving of this city, to which A. D. Call, secretary of the American Peace Society, will respond on behalf of the delegates. Papers discussing the peace problems will be read by Dr. David Starr Jordan of Leland Stanford University, Rev. Frederick Lynch of New York, James McDonald, editor of the Toronto Globe, Canada, and Rev. M. S. Hughes of Pasadena.

Several other well known peace advocates will appear at the other meetings of the society to be held in San Francisco and at the Exposition.

ALAMEDA GIRLS TO DANCE FOR WRITERS

ALAMEDA, Oct. 8.—One of the features of the presentation of Miss Mary Lambert's play, "California—Light of the Coming Day," a symbol drama written in blank verse and which will be given at the California Writers' Club meeting on Tuesday evening of next week at Starr King hall in Oakland, will be the dance of the poppy fairies by a group of young Alameda girls. These clever young dancers, twelve of whom will be fairies and another, Miss Dorothy Balthasar, the "Fairy Queen," are pupils of Miss Vivienne Tweedie. The other fairies are the Misses Jeanette Manuel, Jean Mathewson, Monica and Antoinette O'Brien, Rosalie Jones, Hazel Burmeister, Ruth Pye, Alicia Weaver, Lucile Schwarslose, Juliette Weinstock, Helen and Thelma Morgan, who earned the highest praises for their dancing at the Cuban building during the Writers' convention.

FINDS BEST TEMPERATURE FOR INCUBATION OF EGGS

BERKELEY, Oct. 8. — "How hot should an incubator be kept?"

To answer this often-repeated question of the poultry raisers, J. C. Dougherty, associate professor of poultry husbandry in the University of California, has been making experiments at the University Farm. Now he has proved that 102 degrees Fahrenheit is the best average temperature for an incubator when the bulb of the thermometer is on the level with the top and touching a fertile egg. If, however, the thermometer is not touching the eggs, the incubator should be started at a fairly high temperature and the temperature lowered as the hatching progresses.

WILL REPEAT CONCERT.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 8.—The evening of music given by the vested choir of the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening last and which consisted of compositions of Frederick Stevenson, a California composer, was of such excellence that a request has been made and granted for a repetition. On Sunday morning next the Te Deum will be sung by the choir, and in the evening "The Bells" and two of the solos of last Sunday evening's program.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE SAYS AUTHORITY

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts.

Omit All Meat From Diet if You Feel Rheumatic or Bladder Bothers.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Advertisement.

Boon to Epicure Is Orange Jelly

U. C. Discovers How to Make It Clear

BERKELEY, Oct. 8.—A boon to the epicure, always looking for something new to eat, as well as an aid to the citrus-grower in developing a new by-product, has been given to the world by W. V. Cruess, assistant professor of zymology in the University of California, for he has now devised methods of producing clear and delicious jellies from oranges and from lemons.

By his methods approximately 300 gallons of 5800 glasses can be manufactured from a ton of oranges or lemons. One problem that needed particularly to be solved was how to clear orange and lemon juice. Fining with eight to ten pounds of Spanish clay, settling and filtration was found a satisfactory method.

Two other problems were the elimination of a "musty" taste and the prevention of undue darkening. The use of small amounts of sulfurous acid was found to accomplish both of these results.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE PUTS OFF MEETING

ALAMEDA, Oct. 8. — The scheduled meeting of Mayor F. H. Bartlett's committee of citizens, which was to have taken place last evening in the executive's office in the city hall, has been postponed. The new date of the session has not been determined upon as yet. Mayor Bartlett, in naming the committee, declared that he is to investigate the "official acts of Councilman William Hammond Jr." The mayor has appointed E. J. Holt, George W. Scott, R. B. Tappan, Dr. W. R. Hughes, H. M. Kebby, Rev. C. L. Mears, D. L. Randolph and Green Majors to assist him in his probe.

ALAMEDA WOODMEN INSTALL OFFICERS

ALAMEDA, Oct. 8.—Island City Camp, No. 9393, Modern Woodmen of America, held an interesting meeting Tuesday evening at Eureka hall, this city. The following officers were installed: Consul, W. O. Pearson; adviser, William Welcz; clerk, F. W. Hartley. Another meeting is being arranged for next Tuesday evening.

On October 22, class adoption will be held at Knights of Pythias auditorium, in San Francisco.

WOMAN ENDS LIFE BY INHALING GAS

Despondent Over Ill-Health, Suicide Covers Head and Inhales Fumes.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 8. — When Peter Peterson of 2209 Central avenue arose from bed this morning he found that his wife had taken gas and was lying on the floor in an adjoining room. Mrs. Maren Peterson, the wife, had covered her head with a blanket and was inhaling gas from a tube. Dr. Arthur Hieronymus was called and the new city pulmotor was used, but all efforts failed to resuscitate Mrs. Peterson and she passed away.

Deceased had been ill for a year and it is believed she became despondent because of the state of her health. Mrs. Peterson was 40 years of age and a native of Germany. She is survived by her husband and two children.

ALAMEDA CLUBS ENJOY LITERARY DISCUSSIONS

ALAMEDA, Oct. 8.—The Shakespeare Club was entertained by Mrs. W. B. Kollmyer, when Rachel Crothers' "A Man's World" was read, and the reading was followed by a keen discussion of the subject which was treated under the above head. The readers were Mrs. W. R. Van Brunt, president; Mrs. M. Haslett, Mrs. Frederick Greenlee and Mrs. Charles Lewis. Tea was served after the reading and discussion.

A business meeting of the Criterion Club was held at the home of Mrs. A. C. Faw, 831 Walker street, Oakland, when the president, Mrs. Reubeh W. Mastick, was in charge. After the business session there was a short sketch of Keats given, with an informal discussion over the tea cups. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. W. O. Jacoby, when Mrs. Paul Buckley will have charge of the program, which will be given to the writings of Keats.

BIOLOGY IN MOVIES.

BERKELEY, Oct. 8. — A series of motion pictures of microscopic and other animal life taken by a Berkeley biologist will b shown next Sunday evening at the First Christian church. It is a new film never before shown, and is itself quite a scientific achievement. The pastor will talk from the film upon the topic: "A Parable From Life."

VETERANS TO MEET.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 8. — Barrett Camp of the United Spanish War Veterans and Joe Hooker Post of the G. A. R. will hold a session this evening in Eureka hall, Masonic Temple, Alameda avenue, at Park street. All members are urged to attend.

PORTUGUESE UNION ELECTS OFFICERS

California Protective Organization to Hold Public Installation.

The election and installation of officers and selection of a meeting place for next year were the principal events on today's program of the state convention of the Portuguese Protective Union of California, in session this week in the Maccabees hall. Officers were nominated this afternoon and will be installed at a public ceremony in the Municipal Auditorium this evening. An exhibition drill will be given by the members of the Oakland drill team, captained by Mrs. B. Pimentel, and it is anticipated the installation will be witnessed by several thousand people.

Santa Cruz and San Rafael were the cities most favored for the convention headquarters next year. It is probable the delegates will choose Santa Cruz. Mrs. M. Kardoza of San Leandro, grand president of the order, is presiding today.

There are 130 delegates present from all over the state, including seventeen grand officers. The U. P. P. E. C. Society has a membership of 3200 in the state with a reserve fund of over $20,000, it was shown in reports submitted by committees. The conclave will come to a close tomorrow.

Several thousand delegates of the U. P. P. E. C. and the U. P. E. C., a men's organization, and their friends, attended a ball last evening in the Municipal Auditorium.

DIAMONDS LOOT OF BURGLAR GANG

Over $400 in Jewels Taken by House Breakers; Many Thefts Reported.

Burglars working near the Oakland-Emeryville line broke into two homes last night and stole diamonds valued at $430. In Emeryville they entered the home of Mrs. G. C. Thompson, 1038 Forty-first street, and stole jewelry valued at $280. Entrance was effected by using a passkey. In Oakland they broke into the home of Mrs. S. Meyers, 3814 West street by forcing a dining-room window and stole a diamond ring valued at $150.

Sam K. Daskalakis, 480 Eighth street, befriended a man who told him a pathetic story of trouble and misery. He took the man to his room and gave him a bed for the night. When Daskalakis awoke this morning the unfortunate stranger was gone, and had taken his purse containing $20.

W. B. Green, agent for the Western Pacific Railroad Company, reported the theft of 500 pounds of brass journals.

A five-passenger automobile was taken from in front of the home of Mrs. Roger Chickering, 94 Bayo Vista avenue, last night.

Mrs. A. E. Brennen, 908 Fifty-second street, reported the theft of a handbag containing money and jewelry, taken while she was shopping in a local department store.

Mrs. M. Lima, 127 East Sixteenth street, reported the theft of a set of mink furs from the Maccabee temple during the U. P. P. E. C. convention.

Mrs. Sam Kelemen, 362 Twelfth street, reported the theft of a purse containing $10.

WILLOW TREES SOURCE OF WALNUT DISEASE

BERKELEY, Oct. 8. — Willow trees, growing wild in the canyons, have been discovered by the University of California to be dangerous neighbors, sometimes, for walnut groves.

Searching for the cause of a mysterious disease of the English walnut, "moisaxura," H. S. Fawcett, associate professor of plant pathology in the graduate school of tropical agriculture maintained by the University of California at Riverside, discovered on the native willow trees cankers similar to those occurring upon the walnut trees. He is now convinced that it is from the willow this disease reaches the walnut groves. New treatments for the disease, including both spraying and tree-surgery methods, are now being worked out by the university.

OLDEST IN COUNTY.

REDDING, Oct. 8. — Jeremiah Knight, colored, formerly a Union soldier, is 92 years old. As far as is known, he is the oldest person in Shasta county.

Knight was wounded twice in the war. He receives a pension of $30 a month and has several medals won in the service.

Use Zemo for Eczema

Never mind how often you have tried and failed, you can stop burning, itching eczema quickly by applying a little zemo furnished by any druggist for 25c. Extra large bottle, $1.00. Healing begins the moment zemo is applied. In a short time usually every trace of pimples, black heads, rash, eczema, tetter and similar skin diseases will be removed.

For clearing the skin and making it vigorously healthy, zemo is an exceptional remedy. It is not greasy, sticky or watery and it does not stain. When others fail it is the one dependable treatment for all skin troubles. Zemo, Cleveland.—Advertisement.

DOWNTOWN CLUB OPPOSED TO POLICY

No Public Demand for Acquisition of Purposed Site, Is Contention.

The following letter, issued by the Downtown Property Owners' Association, has been submitted to The Tribune for publication:

"Fellow Citizens of Alameda County: In view of the fact that a proposal has been made by certain interests of Oakland to sell to the county of Alameda, as a site for new county buildings, a parcel of land fronting 176 feet on Telegraph avenue and 573 feet on Nineteenth and Williams streets, at a price of $350,000, and that the Board of Supervisors has gone so far toward accepting this offer as to pass a resolution of intention to purchase the property and set October 21st as the date for a discussion of the matter, we desire to call your attention to the following facts:

"The purchase at this time of this or any other site for such a purpose is not necessary.

"There is not and has not been any popular demand on the part of the people of this county for such an expenditure of public funds, the only agitation in favor of it having been made by the promoters of the land deal who circulated a petition under the guise of a 'request to give the county records better and safer housing.'

"The purchase of such a site, if a sincere investment, commits the county to the erection of new buildings which will necessitate the further outlay of public funds to the extent of $2,000,000 to $4,000,000. No transaction of such magnitude should be entered upon without first securing the approval of the taxpayers at a bond election.

"The high tax rates and other stringent financial conditions existing at the present time are such as not to warrant expenditure of public funds whatsoever unless absolutely necessary. Industrial and commercial enterprises which would give employment to many thousands of people and add extensive payrolls to this county's current wealth are now being excluded from our community because of our tax rates.

"While all citizens of this county recognize the fact that new county buildings are to be ultimately desired and possibly to be located elsewhere than at present, it is evident to all that no step in this direction should be taken until the question of city and county consolidation has been determined and until financial conditions are more auspicious, and then only by bond issue approved by the taxpayers.

"If a consolidated government should be effected, the city jail would doubtless be consolidated with the county jail, the Oakland City Hall would be the logical place for governmental executive offices and the only new building required would be a Hall of Justice.

"The Telegraph avenue site now offered at $350,000 has been valued by competent appraisers within the last few days at an outside figure of $220,000.

"When a new site is really needed and conditions warrant its purchase, the people, themselves, should be given an opportunity to select its location. The Oakland High School building will doubtless soon be abandoned for its present use and there are many other sites available, more desirable for this purpose than this now offered and which could be secured at less cost.

"The Downtown Property Owners' Association is opposed to the purchase of this or any other site for this purpose at this time, has passed resolutions to this effect to be filed with the Board of Supervisors and will protest on October 21. It is probable that all other civic organizations of this county interested in economy in public affairs will likewise protest against the purchase by this county for $350,000 something it will probably never use for the purpose proposed.

"This Association would appreciate a communication from you advising us of your attitude and tendering suggestions that may be helpful in preventing a most unwise and untimely transaction.

"Very truly yours,

"DOWNTOWN PROPERTY OWNERS' ASSOCIATION."

SLUMP OCCURS IN LOCAL MARKETS

Supplies Continue to Enter and Demand Languishes, Causing Congestion.

With supplies continuing to pour in plentifully and the demand entirely too inadequate, fruit and vegetables stacked up during today's market which, if anything, registered as quieter than yesterday. Apples are beginning to find steady though moderate sale, but the Oregon Jonathans are moving slowly on account of their high price, at $1.60 to $1.70 for 3¾ and 4 tier boxes. Berries were on a wider range, owing to their scarcity and the variety of species, and strawberries were disposed of at all the way from $4 to $6.50 per chest. Blackberries were slightly lighter and brought the better figure of $6 straight per chest for the most part. The usual supply of raspberries came in, selling at yesterday's quotation. The grape offering was supplemented by a car of Muscats in Los Angeles lugs, which were selling at 50 to 75 cents a box, with the majority at the upper figure. Tokays dragged and as a result of the poor demand declined to a top of 75 cents per lug though a few fancier boxes brought more. Black grapes also were not desired by traders to any degree and had to be held over. A feature of the fruit arrivals was a fresh shipment of pineapples, which were on the market at an advance price of $2.50 to $4 per crate and at $1.50 to $3 per dozen, as this commodity is not coming in so plentifully now. Bananas are also scarce as the street is entirely bare of the Central American (Eastern) variety. Hawaiian bananas are in fairly good demand, however, and are selling steadily at the usual quotation.

The vegetable market was exceptionally inactive and colorless, practically no changes occurring, except that fancy corn was cheaper, bringing little more than $1.50 per sack. No Half Moon bay peas were on the street and San Leandros are now bringing 6 cents straight per pound. Among the offerings were some cranberry beans at 3½ and 4 cents per pound.

MINING MARKET IN LIVELY UPTURN

Low Levels Prove Attractive to Traders and Advances Astonish Professionals.

After an hour of inactivity the mining shares market took an upward turn this morning that astonished professionals on both sides of the market.

Jumbo Extension advanced to $1.25 on opening sale and advanced to $1.27½. Kewanas advanced from 34c to 35c and later touching 38c. Booth advanced a point to 43c and Speahead rose to 12c.

The Oatman propeties were more active, principally because there is belief that the next fotnight's development will reveal new paying ore bodies.

The Comstocks were stronger.

FURTHER RECOVERIES IN MIDWEEK DECLINE SHOWN; U. S. STEEL RECORDS RISE

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Further substantial recoveries from the midweek severe declines were recorded at the opening today. Advances of 1 to 3 points from yesterday's final quotations were made by Crucible Steel, Colorado Fuel, Baldwin Locomotive and Westinghouse, the latter opening with 3500 shares at 135 to 135½, a maximum jump of 2¼.

United States Steel rose 1¾ to 81¾ and Bethlehem Steel added almost two points to its record at 452, soon ascending to 459. General Motors rose 5½ to 345 and other specialties rose appreciably. New York Central, Atchison, Union Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio and New Haven supplemented the gains of yesterday.

Note—In the above tabulation of the tides the daily tides are given in the order of their occurrence, commencing with the early morning tide in the left-hand column and the succeeding tides as they occur. On some days but three tides occur, the fourth occurring the following morning.

The columns of heights gives the elevation of each tide above or below the level of Coast Survey chart sounding. The numbers are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign or dash (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depths given on the chart.

WHEAT SET BACK BY CROP REPORT

Government Estimate of Great Yield Causes Drop in Prices.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Wheat suffered a material setback in value today owing to the huge crop estimates contained in the government report. Opening prices, which ranged from ⅜c to 1⅜c down, with December at $1.04 to $1.04½ and May at $1.04⅞ to $1.05⅛, were recorded before the decline was checked.

The close was nervous, 3¼c to 3⅝@3⅞c net lower, with December at $1.01⅝ and May at $1.02⅛@1.02⅜.

Corn, like wheat, was affected by the bearishness of the Washington crop report. The market, after opening ⅜c lower to ⅜c up, underwent a slight general sag.

The close was steady at [illegible] net decline. [illegible] buying steadied oats. Packers' selling weakened provisions.

Following were the closing quotations:
Wheat—December, $1.01⅝; May, $1.02⅜.
Corn—December, 56⅜c; May, 57⅞c.
Oats—December, 35⅜c; May, 38⅜c.
Pork—December, $14.70; January, $17.35.
Lard—November, $9.15; January, $9.35.
Ribs—November, $9.35; January, $9.37½.

...poKane Man Held by German Soldiers

By Associated Press.

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 8. — A telegram received last night from a Paris news agency says that Lieutenant Charles M. Sweeny, son of Charles Sweeny, a Spokane mining man, is held a prisoner by the Germans. Young Sweeny, who was born in San Francisco, spent three years in West Point, resigning to take up civil engineering. He enlisted in the French Legion while on a visit to France and was promoted to a lieutenancy in the French regular army.

CLERGYMAN SOUGHT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8. — A search was started on the police telegraph for the rev. J. G. Adams of Selma, Cal., who left Selma Tuesday in an automobile bound for this city to meet his wife and daughter. They were en route from Long Beach and are staying at 643 Turk street, pending receipt of word concerning Adams.

STATE TO PLAN EUGENICS WORK

California Bureau to Be Established to Investigate Problems.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 8. — California is to be the first State in the Union to establish a department of research combining the principles of both eugenics and psychology to determine the cause of juvenile delinquency.

Arrangements for the establishment of this department in the Whittier reform school, near Los Angeles, were completed yesterday at the Capitol by Fred C. Nelles, Whittier superintendent.

The work will be started Saturday in the new hospital and receiving cottage.

At the head of the department will be J. Harold Williams, who has been a fellow for the last year in the Bureau foundation for psychological research at Stanford university, under Dr. Terman, a national authority.

For the field and laboratory work the services of Professor Cowdery, dispatched from the Eugenics Record office, a national organization located at Cold Springs Harbor, Long Island, N. Y., have been secured.

The Eugenics Record office is financed both by the Carnegie foundation and by Mrs. Edward H. Harriman, widow of the late railway magnate. This institution has spent some money in investigation of patients in insane hospitals in the east, but this is the first time that its energy has been given to work of this kind on the Pacific coast.

Superintendent Nelles stated today that during the last ten years California has expended more than $4,000,000 on its juvenile delinquents in Whittier and Preston reform schools, and in the newly established California school for girls in Ventura county.

Nelles added in regard to the school:

"The purpose of the new department of eugenics and psychological research will be to get back into family history to determine to what extent defectiveness has had to do with the delinquency of the youths consigned to the institution. Perhaps there may have been insanity in the family, or again it may have been feeble-mindedness on the part of one or both of the parents.

"It is only as we know the cause of juvenile delinquency that we can undertake with reasonable hope of success to prevent it."

REPORT ON WORK.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. — A personal report on the six months' struggle of the American Red Cross Sanitary Commission with the typhus epidemic in Serbia, which took between 135,000 and 150,000 lives, was given at Red Cross headquarters here yesterday by Richard P. Strong of Harvard University, who was director of the commission. Dr. Strong said there had not been a new case of typhus in three weeks when he left Serbia recently.

Canadian War Loan to Be Floated

By Associated Press.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 8. — W. T. White, finance minister, in addressing the board of trade here today, announced the floating of a Canadian war loan. He said that for the six months succeeding the war, Canada's loans had aggregated $2[illegible] ... the previous five years the Dominion had been borrowing at the rate of three hundred million a year.

"We are now in a position, after a year of war," Minister White said, in conclusion, "to go ahead and raise a considerable amount of our own expenditure at home. You will shortly have an opportunity of subscribing for a Canadian war loan."

It is stated in financial circles that the Canadian loan will be $50,000,000 at 5 per cent.

CREATES MONUMENT.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. — President Wilson issued a proclamation today creating the dinosaur national monument in Utah, where rocks bearing dinosaurian and other gigantic reptilian fossils have been found. They are said to be among the most interesting and valuable specimens in the world, and will be protected from haphazard excavations by vandals or speculators.

French Chamber Authorizes Loan

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—The Chamber of Deputies has unanimously adopted a bill authorizing the Anglo-French loan negotiated in the United States. After Finance Minister Ribot had read the American loan bill to the chamber, Albert Martin, of the appropriations committee, explained that the proceeds of the loan would be used exclusively to pay for what France was buying in the United States and to establish exchange.
